The Mission, Vision, and Values of St Vladimir's Orthodox Theological Seminary

St Vladimir's Orthodox Theological Seminary is a graduate seminary purposefully committed to the development of all levels of ecclesiastical hierarchy, clergy and laity within the Orthodox faith who serve Christ through a multitude of ordained, missionary and evangelical ministries. This preparation is formed by academy level theological studies, scholarship, practical liturgical worship and ascetical effort. Through a vibrant Pan-Orthodox communal experience which fosters lasting bonds, personal and spiritual life develops firmly anchored in the Scriptures, Apostolic Tradition, and Patristics.

Our commitment to the pastoral formation and critical appropriation of the Orthodox Tradition is articulated through intellectually demanding and doctrinally sound curriculum. By the grace of the Holy Spirit and guidance of accomplished, notable faculty, and publications by SVS Press, we cultivate successive generations of Orthodox apologists, scholars, clergy and laity who nurture a transformative vision which infuses our faith, society, and culture for the sacramental life of the world and salvation in Christ.

Mission and Purpose

Located in suburban Westchester County, close to nature but only thirty minutes from the rich cultural and educational resources of New York City, St Vladimir's Orthodox Theological Seminary is a graduate professional school whose degree programs are registered by the New York State Education Department and accredited nationally by the Commission on Accrediting of the Association of Theological Schools in the United States and Canada. The seminary serves Christ and his Church through education and scholarship, by preparing future priests and church leaders, continuing the task of theological reflection and scholarship, providing expertise and resources for the Church and the world.

Occupying a fourteen-acre campus, crowned by the beautiful chapel, St Vladimir's Seminary is committed to educating and forming priests and leaders of the Church in a residential and communal setting. The "two paths" that Sts Basil and Gregory knew in Athens—one to the church, the other to the library and classroom—are followed by all who live on campus, faculty as well as students. The library, classrooms, dormitories, thirty-two on-campus apartments for married students, and homes for faculty and staff, make possible a shared ecclesial and scholarly life, providing a strong sense of community and common purpose.

From its establishment in 1938, St Vladimir's Seminary has been committed to maintaining the highest levels of theological scholarship and pastoral formation, to advancing a pan-Orthodox vision for the Church in this country, and to addressing the contemporary world. In recognition of its growth, guided by leaders from all jurisdictions, the seminary was granted the status of an "Academy" by the Holy Synod in 1948, an Absolute Charter by the Regents of the University of the State of New York in 1953, the right to award the degree of Bachelor of Divinity (later the Master of Divinity) in 1970 and other degrees subsequently, and full accreditation by the Association of Theological Schools in 1973.

Following the tradition of the Orthodox Church, St Vladimir's Seminary holds that while all those who are called to serve the Church in Holy Orders need theological education and spiritual formation, all believers are called to "growth in life and faith and spiritual understanding." As such, we offer not only the degree of Master of Divinity, but also the degrees of Master of Arts, Master of Theology, and Doctorate of Ministry, each with its own objectives, methods, and techniques, and each also united with the others in a common theological perspective. In this way, through preparing men and women for a variety of vocations, we serve to nourish the living foundation of the life and activity of the entire community of believers.

The seminary is a center not only for theological education but also for theological research and reflection. Through the effective use of its various resources—faculty, publications, library, buildings—the seminary has been able to broaden its outreach, bringing the message of Orthodox theology to thousands who otherwise might be untouched by formal theological education. Through the major international conferences it sponsors, addressing both historical and contemporary issues, ecclesial and theological, and through the various non-degree programs that it runs, the seminary serves the Church and society through a number of different avenues.

While having a clear sense of unity and community, St Vladimir's is also characterized by its diversity, with persons of many different backgrounds and cultures. This can be seen not only in the faculty and Board of Trustees, which includes bishops of the Orthodox Church in America, the Antiochian Orthodox Christian Archdiocese, the Serbian Orthodox Church, Coptic Orthodox Church, and the Malankara Orthodox Syrian Church, but also in the student body, past and present. With this long-standing pan-Orthodox vision and commitment, the seminary has served, and continues to do so, as a nexus for inter-Orthodox cooperation and a forum for increased mutual understanding of each tradition. The seminary is convinced that maintenance of this rich diversity is vital for the fulfillment of its mission and the life of the Orthodox Church in this country. St Vladimir's thus reflects both the variety and the potential of the world in which the Orthodox Church lives today. Though the seminary is not large, the scope of its witness and mission is global.

In all these ways, the seminary has profoundly touched the life of the Church, nationally and internationally. Finally, and most dramatically, it has done so through its alumni—now numbering more than nineteen hundred, including over fifty hierarchs, a thousand clergy, and three hundred women—who have worked in a variety of capacities, furthering the mission of Christ's Church throughout the world.

A Brief History

The need for a center of theological and pastoral training was recognized as soon as the first seeds of Orthodoxy were sown on American soil by eight Russian monks who arrived in Alaska in the fall of 1794. They quickly moved to establish a school on Kodiak Island. A few decades later a seminary was founded in Sitka by St Innocent (Veniaminov), then bishop in Alaska, later Metropolitan of Moscow, who in 1977 was officially listed among the saints of the Church as "Apostle to America." But these pioneering attempts were short-lived. Throughout the 19th century, while the number of Orthodox in America steadily grew, the Orthodox Church remained fundamentally an immigrant community served by bishops and priests sent from abroad, primarily from Russia. It was only in 1905 that Archbishop Tikhon, later Patriarch of Moscow (†1925), recognized the need for American-born clergy and decided to establish a permanent seminary. Opened in 1905 in Minneapolis, it was transferred in 1913 to Tenafly, New Jersey, and during the eighteen years of its existence produced two generations of priests who, at a difficult moment in the life of the Church, assured the continuity of Orthodoxy in America and its progressive integration into American life.

The Russian Revolution of 1917 inaugurated a deep crisis for Orthodoxy in America. Deprived of material support from Russia, isolated from the Mother Church, suffering from internal divisions, the Church here could no longer financially support the seminary, and it had to close its doors in 1923. Only fifteen years later, after a long period of recovery and reorganization, could the question of theological education be raised again. In October 1937, at the Sixth All-

American Church Sobor meeting in New York, Dr Basil M. Bensen, one of the first instructors at the Minneapolis school, proposed reopening the seminary. He forcefully insisted that Orthodox priests in this country needed to receive a liberal arts college education—the normal preparation for clergy of other religious groups—as the foundation for their theological training. Dr Bensen’s plan was approved, and the projected seminary was given the name of St Vladimir, the prince who in 988 introduced Orthodox Christianity to the Kievan Rus’. On October 3, 1938, Metropolitan Theophilus (†1950), primate of the Russian Orthodox Greek Catholic Church, conducted the opening service at Holy Trinity Church in Brooklyn, New York, and the next day classes began in the parish house of the Church of Christ the Savior, on East 121st Street in Manhattan.

The first decade of the new seminary’s existence was a struggle for the faculty and administration. With no permanent quarters, no funds, helped only by a small group of friends, they struggled to keep the seminary alive and true to its purpose. “They were often faced,” wrote one of them later, “with the temptation to lower the standards, to compromise with what seemed to be a difficult situation; yet of all the reasons of these first years, the most inspiring is certainly that of faithfulness to a vision, to the idea of the seminary as it was defined at its beginning.” A working agreement was established with Columbia College, and in 1939 a temporary home for the school was found on the campus of General Theological Seminary.

The aftermath of World War II brought unexpected possibilities for the seminary’s further growth and development. The arrival from Europe of several renowned scholars—including George P. Fedotov, formerly a professor at St Sergius Institute in Paris (†1951); Nicholas S. Arseniev, from the Orthodox Theological Faculty in Warsaw (†1977); Eugene V. Spektorsky, formerly of the University of Kiev (†1950); and Nicholas O. Lossky, formerly of the University of St Petersburg (†1965)—made possible further development of St Vladimir’s as a graduate school of theology. Soon the school moved to new quarters rented from Union Theological Seminary—an unforgettable collection of apartments on West 121st Street—and on June 18, 1948, St Vladimir’s was granted a Provisional Charter by the Board of Regents of the University of the State of New York, thus officially establishing it as “an institution of higher learning.”

The beginning of this new era coincided with the arrival from St Sergius Institute in Paris of the Very Rev. Dr Georges Florovsky, who soon was appointed dean (1949–55). Under his leadership the curriculum was developed, the faculty grew, and the school was given a definite pan-Orthodox orientation. “A contemporary Orthodox theologian,” Fr Florovsky said at the formal inauguration of the seminary in its new status, “cannot retire into a narrow cell of some local tradition, because Orthodoxy... is not a local tradition but basically an ecumenical one.” The seminary’s future development was assured by the arrival of other younger theologians from St Sergius: Fr Alexander Schmemmann (1951, †1983), Professor Serge S. Verhovskoy (1952, †1986), and later Fr John Meyendorff (1959, †1992). Acknowledging its progress, the Board of Regents of the State of New York granted St Vladimir’s an Absolute Charter in April 1953.

The next decades of the seminary’s history were shaped above all by the Very Rev. Alexander Schmemmann, dean from 1962 until his death in December 1983. His vision and energetic leadership brought advances in many areas: increase in support for the seminary on the part of church authorities and Orthodox faithful throughout the country, stabilization of administrative structures, development of the faculty, programs of instruction, and the student body, and acquisition of a permanent “home” for the seminary. In 1961, a five-year search for a suitable campus was crowned by the acquisition of a beautiful property in Westchester County, and within a few years, after a successful financial drive, new buildings were erected and housing for faculty and staff was acquired. In June 1966, the seminary was accepted to Associate Membership in the American Association of Theological Schools, becoming fully accredited in 1973. Final recognition of the seminary’s maturity was given in March 1967, when the Board of Regents of the University of the State of New York granted the seminary the power to award the degree of Bachelor of Divinity (later Master of Divinity), followed in 1970 by the degree of Master of Theology, in 1985 by the degree of Master of Arts, and in 1988 by the degree of Doctor of Ministry. In May 1977, a new dormitory and staff residence, necessitated by the seminary’s continued growth, was dedicated by His Beatitude Elias IV, Patriarch of Antioch; and in 1983, a few months before Fr Schmemmann’s death, a beautiful new chapel, together with a new administrative facility containing bookstore, classroom and office space, was dedicated by His Beatitude Metropolitan Theodosius, Primate of the Orthodox Church in America.

Under the leadership of the Very Rev. Dr John Meyendorff, appointed dean in 1984, the seminary expanded and strengthened its programs of study. Additional on-campus apartment space for the growing number of married students was developed, and property was acquired to allow for further expansion. Dramatic changes in Eastern Europe brought increased numbers of international students to the campus, and a vigorous development program was initiated.

With Fr Meyendorff’s retirement as dean in June 1992, followed by his untimely death one month later, and the selection of the Very Rev. Dr Thomas Hopko as the seminary’s first American-born dean in September 1992, St Vladimir’s entered into a new chapter in its history. Programs for institutional advancement and development launched under Fr Meyendorff were vigorously pursued. New faculty members were recruited. Financial support was strengthened and broadened. A major building program—including additional married student housing, faculty houses, a new library and renovation of older structures—was completed. The state-of-the-art John J. Rangos building, which houses the library, an auditorium, and the seminary’s administrative offices, was dedicated in May 2002.

In July 2002, John H. Erickson, longtime Academic Dean and Professor of Church History and Canon Law, succeeded Fr Hopko, becoming the first layman and the first convert to serve as dean. Ordained to the priesthood during his tenure, Fr John launched a new strategic plan, SVS 2010, which aimed at enhancing the formation of seminarians for service to the Church, improving the scope and effectiveness of the seminary’s outreach, and developing the human and financial resources needed for sustaining the seminary’s work. A major portion of the strategic plan included an intensive four-year study and development of “the Good Pastor” project, an ongoing effort to equip seminarians with the knowledge and skills they need to lead and serve the Church in the modern world. The project was a precursor to the new curriculum, implemented in 2007, and to the formalized Wives Program (now known as St Juliana Society). Also during his tenure, eighteen new units of married student housing were constructed, transforming the campus into a more unified community and allowing for more on-campus opportunities for fellowship and fun among the student body.

Following the deanship of Fr John Erickson, and recognizing the increasing scope of operations at the seminary, the Board of Trustees decided to inaugurate a leadership structure of shared governance, with the Very Rev. Dr John Behr appointed as dean, the Very Rev. Dr Chad Hatfield as chancellor, and Trustee Ann Glynn-Mackoul as the Executive Chair of the Board of Trustees. In July 2007, the three began to lead the seminary using an administrative model of consultative decision-making and shared governance, with oversight of distinct areas: the Dean presides over ecclesial life and educational programs; the Chancellor presides over the organizational operation of the school; and the Executive Chair of the Board acts as liaison between the seminary administration and the Board of Trustees. St Vladimir's continues to adapt its curriculum and programs to the economic, demographic, and spiritual realities of the contemporary world. St Vladimir's Seminary's new curriculum—a revised Master of Divinity, the seminary's core degree—was developed by the faculty at the turn of the twenty-first century. The new curriculum significantly enhances the pastoral and liturgical formation of each student, modifies the daily, weekly, and yearly schedules, and advances the notion that competent performance, rather than minimal accomplishment of course objectives, best determines success in the practical disciplines. While these modifications and new approaches may indeed be significant, the founding principles—the vision of St Vladimir's—have not changed and will continue to guide the training and the formation of seminarians.

In May 2016 the Board of Trustees made a decision to reorganize the governance structure of the seminary in accordance with a new three-year business plan they had concurrently adopted in order to build up seminary endowments and to ensure the seminary's future financial viability. Within the newly organized structure four executive officers overseeing vital areas of seminary life—Chief Academic Officer, Chief Financial Officer, Chief Operations Officer, and Chief Advancement Officer—would report to the Office of the President. In May 2017 the Board of Trustees confirmed the appointment of the Very Reverend Dr Chad Hatfield as President, which had occurred at their May 2016 meeting.

Following Fr Hatfield's appointment, the seminary reported a successful financial completion to the two years of the new business plan, with significant deficit reduction and replenishment of endowments, as well as the completion of a campus Master Plan in anticipation of future development. The seminary's academic publishing house, SVS Press, underwent growth in productivity and sales, due in part an unprecedented major gift that funded a generous endowment to increase editorial capacity and advance new marketing techniques. The seminary also expanded and strengthened its engagement with a network of other Orthodox agencies and non-profits, including IOCC, OCMC, FOCUS, and OVF, among others. As well, the school completed a historic audio-cassette digitization project that will once more bring to life the voices of former lecturers and seminary professors—including Frs Schmemmann and Meyendorff—and offer them to freely to the public through the website of the seminary library.

After a prolonged search, in July 2018, Dr. Ionuț-Alexandru Tudorie was appointed by the Board of Trustees as academic dean and he assumed this position in October 2018. His focus for the five-year long tenure is to implement the curriculum revision (Vision 2020 – with a significant reduction of credits), to enhance the academic life of the Seminary and to rebuild the faculty.

As far as academic progress, more sessional professors were engaged in order to expand program offerings—including hybrid model course offerings—and the first cohort of the reinstated Doctor of Ministry hybrid model program graduated in January 2018. Additionally IT upgrades were made in all classrooms. St Vladimir’s also continued to broaden its mutual agreements for faculty and student exchange with theological faculties globally, including those in Georgia, Romania, Russian Federation, Serbia, and Ukraine, and with various Oriental Orthodox communities. Moreover the seminary began to educate more students from Africa under the auspices of the Patriarchate of Alexandria by establishing the St Cyprian of Carthage scholarship fund. In Academic Year 2019–2020 the seminary is seeking to get the complete accreditation as a Clinical Pastoral Education (CPE) Satellite. Following a pilot program / CPE Extended Unit Parish-based in 2018-2019, St Vladimir is planning to educate its second cohort of Seminarians to earn a unit of CPE in a parish setting. The seminary also continues its offerings to the wider public within the Sacred Arts Initiative, now known as the Institute of Sacred Arts (July 2019), which has been assisted by two consecutive grants from the Henry Luce Foundation.

Seminary Life

St Vladimir’s Orthodox Theological Seminary is officially described as a “graduate professional school” and an “institution of higher learning,” yet it is neither narrowly vocational nor only academic. As its name suggests, it is above all an Orthodox theological seminary. All aspects of its life are molded by an understanding of theology that seeks to engage the whole person, shunning the compartmentalization and fragmentation that so often characterize higher education.

One graduate described his program at St Vladimir’s as “impossible, but realistic”—“impossible” because of the heavy demands of course work, chapel services, choir trips, field work, parish visits, and work assignments; “realistic” because active involvement in church life and service is no less demanding, and because being stretched is a necessary part of spiritual and intellectual growth. At St Vladimir’s the knowledge, skills, and reflexes needed for “real” life are developed in every aspect of seminary life, in the refectory and hallways as well as in the classroom.

Visitors to St Vladimir’s are often struck by the sense of common purpose, commitment and endeavor shared by students, faculty, and staff alike. This is no accident. Theology in the Orthodox tradition is not simply a task of the mind or an individual matter. It is the life of the mind and heart, body and soul, of persons united in a community of faith. St Vladimir’s seeks to live in this tradition, to keep it alive in daily life.

Visitors are also impressed by the richness of the seminary’s liturgical life. Daily worship in the chapel, the observance of the Church’s fasts, and the celebration of her feasts are not mere ornaments added to an otherwise complete program. The very reality of the seminary as a community is grounded upon a common vision expressed in the sacramental life of the Church and experienced in corporate prayer. Without this, seminary life would indeed be impossible.

The Fr Georges Florovsky Library

Serving the needs of the faculty and the students, and the worldwide scholarly community as well, is one of the major assets of the seminary as an institution of higher learning—the Fr Georges Florovsky Library. The library currently holds approximately 200,000 volumes and receives over 160 periodicals. This collection is considered one of the richest resources available on the North American continent for research on Eastern Christianity. It is especially strong in the areas of Orthodox church history, Orthodox theology, philosophy, and culture. In addition to the extensive collection of books and periodicals, the Library also possesses several important archival resources, including The Father Georges Florovsky Papers, The Father Alexander Schmemmann Papers, and The Skvir–Buketoff Music Collection.

The library is fully computerized with a full-feature open-source integrated library system, serving not only the seminary community but also those interested in the Orthodox Church throughout the world. The seminary is a founding member of the New York Area Theological Libraries Association (NYATLA), and as a result of this membership, faculty and students have ready access to the collections of other major theological libraries in the metropolitan New York area. Starting with January 2019, faculty and students have on-campus access to JSTOR Essential Collection, one of the most important database in the field of Humanities.

Partner Institutions

By virtue of its location in the greater New York metropolitan area, St Vladimir’s is able to draw upon a number of renowned Orthodox scholars at other institutions to teach at the seminary and has had the opportunity to partner with other institutions, thus providing significant opportunities for students to enrich, deepen, and broaden their education.

NEW YORK THEOLOGICAL CONSORTIUM

St Vladimir’s is in close proximity to Fordham University, the Jesuit University of New York. Fr John Meyendorff, former Dean of St Vladimir’s (1984–92), held the position of Professor of Byzantine History at Fordham (from 1967). During his time there, an arrangement was developed by virtue of which students at St Vladimir’s Seminary are able to take courses in the department of Theology at Fordham. This cooperation continues today, as Th.M. students and qualified M.A. and M.Div. students are permitted to take up to six credits of course work at Fordham and the other schools of the New York Theological Consortium (Union Theological Seminary, The General Theological Seminary, New York Theological Seminary, and Hebrew Union College). Students must meet the normal prerequisites for the courses in which they seek to enroll and comply with the enrollment procedures required by St Vladimir’s Seminary and consortium schools.

ST NERSESS ARMENIAN SEMINARY

St Nersess Armenian Seminary was established in 1961 in Evanston, Illinois, under the auspices of the Dioceses of the Armenian Church in America. After moving to New York in 1967, the school first resided on the campus of St Vladimir’s, and in 1977 it acquired a beautiful Tudor building in nearby New Rochelle. The following decades saw the growth of St Nersess Seminary, with the addition of several faculty members, specializing in the history, theology, liturgy, and language of the Armenian Church. Since their move to New York, students at St Nersess Seminary have taken their M.Div. degree at St Vladimir's Seminary. With the revision of St Vladimir's M.Div. curriculum in 2007, a further step towards greater collaboration was taken, whereby a number of the courses offered by the faculty of St Nersess count for credit at St Vladimir's. In this way, students of St Vladimir's can benefit greatly from the remarkable range of courses offered by the distinguished faculty of St Nersess, from Armenian language instruction to historical, liturgical, and theological courses.

St Vladimir's Seminary Alumni Association

The seminary's Alumni Association is composed of all graduates and former students of the seminary. Its purpose is to promote spiritual unity and fellowship among its members, to support the development of higher theological education in the Western hemisphere, and to render moral and financial support to the seminary.

STUDENT LIFE

In the seminary's understanding of theology and of its own task—the training of spiritually formed, well-educated, responsible, and dedicated priests, teachers, and other church leaders—academic effort cannot be separated from spiritual effort and from active participation in the liturgical and communal life of the seminary.

Chapel

Three Hierarchs Chapel stands as the place where the seminary community comes together to celebrate the liturgical services. Everything that happens there is done for the glory of God. The members of the seminary faculty and staff, students and their families, and many people from the local area, attend services in the chapel, singing the responses, reading, serving in the altar, offering homilies, and preparing the chapel for worship. The liturgical life lived out in the chapel is our communal and corporate worship of the living God. As such, when students enroll in the seminary, and so become members of our community, they are expected to participate fully in our rich liturgical life and to take responsibility, as assigned, for their part in the life and worship of the chapel. During their time at seminary, some students will participate in parish mentorships and internships that take them to other churches for services; nevertheless, they remain a part of the seminary community and therefore retain responsibility for the services in the chapel. Some seminary students, such as the Armenian and Malankara students, attend services elsewhere because of their ecclesial affiliation, though the seminary expects them to participate fully in the liturgical life of their Church in exactly the same manner as the students who attend Three Hierarchs Chapel. As members of the seminary community, they are also expected to attend major liturgical celebrations in Three Hierarchs Chapel marking the beginning of the semesters, the feasts of the Exaltation of the Cross (September 14) and The Three Hierarchs (January 30), the annual Lenten retreat, and to be present for the ordination of their classmates and for the Divine Liturgy at commencement.

The seminary is a place of preparation for ordination and leadership in the Church. Alongside work in the classroom, fieldwork, and community service, the chapel is essential to this formation. Two presuppositions guide the seminary in the ordering of chapel life: first, that what happens in the chapel happens for the formation of the students; and second, that everything done in chapel must fit into the overall seminary program.

The first presupposition—that students are formed in chapel—means that the liturgical services celebrated in chapel have the same goal as any liturgical service: the transformation and renewal of those participating in the services. Students are formed by hearing what is read, sung, and spoken in the chapel, by seeing the rites celebrated in splendor, and by praying. But just as importantly, students are formed in chapel by doing: singing in the choir, reading, serving in the altar, offering homilies, and caring for the chapel. Because the chapel is the chapel of a learning community, the seminary celebrates services in a way that helps students learn how to serve. In a way, the chapel can be called a “workshop” where students actualize what they have learned in the classroom. The members of the seminary faculty guide the students in their liturgical formation by observing and assessing both their performance and their deportment. Although students are not graded for their chapel work, it is the responsibility of the Rector of the chapel to report to bishops concerns about student deportment and whether their students can, in fact, read, serve, and sing in church.

As is well known, the seminary presents a fuller cycle of services than would be found in a typical parish, though not so many as in a monastic setting. In terms of actual practice, the seminary strives to follow the broad Russian liturgical tradition that it has inherited, while attempting to reflect the diversity of liturgical practice found in contemporary North America. Additionally, the seminary carefully seeks to offer the best practices from a wider Orthodox expression of liturgical celebration and takes into account the insights of former deans and teachers of the seminary.

As students participate each day in chapel services, they begin to develop the habits and personal discipline necessary for service to the Church, which service also requires the humility to be accountable to expectations, schedules, and assignments. To this end, students are accountable to each other and to the seminary for their participation in the liturgical life of the community. Seminary programs of study place significant demands on students, demands that can make it difficult for students to manage their time effectively, as experience has shown. Typically, students spend about ten hours a week in chapel, a commitment that increases to fifteen hours a week during Lent. The seminary maintains this rigorous schedule so that students can develop their liturgical instincts by deepening their participation in the worship and prayer of the Church and by becoming intimately familiar with the services and their structure and ethos.

So important is regular participation in chapel services for the spiritual life and formation of every student that failure to attend services regularly may result in disciplinary action. If a student is to be absent from chapel, he or she must receive a blessing from the Director of Formation and inform the Seminary Ecclesiarch. If the student is a deacon or priest, he must first receive a blessing from the Rector of the chapel before approaching the Seminary Ecclesiarch.

Community Life

DISCIPLINE

Each student is also a seminarian, subject to the ecclesiastical regulations, moral standards, and patterns of behavior traditionally expected by the Orthodox Church from those who prepare themselves for church service. Thus the word “discipline” here means the totality of moral norms, academic requirements, and regulations to which every student subscribes by the very fact of his or her application to the seminary, and in obedience to which the student is expected to live throughout his or her time at seminary. Any breach in discipline, moral lapse, crime, flagrant breach of academic honesty (such as plagiarism or cheating), insubordination to authority, or action contrary to the best interests of the seminary may lead, upon action by the Faculty Council, to disciplinary probation (probation for reasons of conduct) or, if serious enough, to immediate dismissal.

COMMUNITY SERVICE

Community service, or diakonia, is one of the essential components of community life at St Vladimir's Seminary. Without such a component, ministry—whether pastoral, academic, or professional—fails to bear the fruits of Christian life. As Orthodox Christians, we are called to lay down our lives for others, as Jesus Christ laid down his life for us; if we desire to follow Christ, we must wash the feet of others, as he washed the feet of the disciples. The acts of charity and love we undertake for others, we are reminded, are acts of charity and love for the Lord Himself. The community service program at St Vladimir's provides structured opportunities for students to grow in personal faith, emotional maturity, moral integrity, and public witness. Through such service, students are challenged to deepen their love of God and neighbor, and thus come to share the Lord Himself through their acts of love.

Therefore, in the spirit of Christian obedience and as a service to the community, each student in residence is expected to give a portion of his or her time to complete regular and ad hoc work assignments at the seminary. Regular assignments are made at the beginning of each semester by the Director of Formation; the need for ad hoc assignments arises on special occasions in the life of the seminary, such as Education Day, Pascha, and Commencement. Failure to complete assignments faithfully may result in disciplinary probation.

RESIDENTIAL LIFE

In many different ways, the seminary seeks to foster a student life conducive to Orthodox Christian formation and academic success. Students in the M.Div. program are required to live on campus, whereas students in the other degree programs may live off campus, but they are then ineligible for seminary financial aid. Nevertheless, the seminary considers all degree candidates and non-degree special students, whether they live on or off the seminary campus, as part of the seminary community. This consideration means that the seminary supervises not only their academic work but also their participation in church life and the seminary chapel, their ecclesiastical status, voluntary or paid activities and assignments, as well as any change in status (ordination, employment, enrollment in other institutions).

Dormitories

Single students normally live in seminary facilities unless, for medical reasons, they are unable to live in the dormitory and/or eat in the refectory. Dormitory rooms are assigned by the Academic Advisor & Recruitment. Students having special needs should contact him. Rooms are furnished with basic essentials: desk, chair, dresser, and bed. Students must supply linen, lamps, and any other furnishings, as needed. No pets are permitted in the seminary's dormitories.

Apartments

Married students live in seminary apartments and are subject to seminary regulations concerning chapel and choir participation, community service, and other requirements applicable to all students. The seminary owns and operates thirty-two apartments on its campus for use by married students and their families. Apartments vary in size from studio to three-bedroom; all include a kitchen or kitchenette with refrigerator, stove, and dishwasher. Seminary apartments are available to married students enrolled on a full-time basis in one of the seminary's programs of study. Applications for married student apartments must be submitted to the Academic Advisor & Recruitment, noting such matters as program of study and size of family. Residents in seminary apartments may retain the apartments only for the normal duration of their program of study; during this time they must be enrolled on a full-time basis and remain active and responsible in all aspects of seminary life (see above under “Discipline”). Apartment rents (which are significantly lower than the prevailing local market rates) are determined by the seminary administration. Since the seminary’s married student apartments are considered dormitory space, rent for the semester is payable at the time of registration; any plans for deferred payment must be approved in advance by the Chief Financial Officer. Apartment residents are also responsible for utilities, with monthly bills payable directly to the utility company. Married students with pets (cats or small dogs) may apply for accommodations in the Erickson House. Please note, however, that the seminary might revoke this privilege should students not take proper care of their animals.

While every effort will be made to accommodate students with special needs, no special facilities or services are available for them at the present time.

SAFETY

The seminary is committed to maintaining a safe and secure environment for study, prayer, work, and play for students and their families as well as for faculty and staff. Specific information concerning campus safety, security, and emergency procedures is found in the Student Handbook, which includes additional rules and regulations governing student life at the seminary. This information is reviewed by the Director of Formation during general or dormitory meetings with students. In compliance with regulations of the Office of Postsecondary Education of the U.S. Department of Education, the Director of Formation posts on eCampus an annual security report containing relevant statistics, policies with regard to campus security, and a description of programs that promote campus safety for current students and employees. This report is also available to prospective students and employees upon request to the Director of Formation.

Disability Services

Disability Services at St Vladimir’s Seminary helps to ensure equal educational access and opportunity for all members of our community. The Office of the President oversees Disability Services and works individually with students to create an effective and comprehensive accommodation plan in accordance with Section 504 of the Federal Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and Title III of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990. Section 504 of the Federal Rehabilitation Act states:

No otherwise qualified individual with a disability in the United States, as defined in section 7(20), shall solely by reason of his or her disability, be excluded from the participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any program or activity receiving Federal financial assistance.

In its mission to train priests, theologians, and educated laity, St Vladimir’s Seminary strives to embrace and support all those who answer the Lord’s call to serve in His vineyard. Disability Services works with administrators, faculty, and staff to ensure that students with disabilities have reasonable and appropriate accommodations. The seminary will offer reasonable aids and services to assist otherwise qualified persons in achieving success in its programs, services, and facilities.

Please contact Ann Sanchez, Disability Services Access Coordinator (Rangos 117, x323), to begin the disability services registration process or request additional information.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Who is a Person with a Disability?

A person with a disability is someone who has one or a combination of several physical, mental, and learning impairments, which substantially limits one or more of the person's major life functions. Major life functions include seeing, hearing, walking, or learning. A person may also be considered to have a disability if s/he has a history of substantial impairment or is regarded as being substantially impaired.

Who is a Qualified Person with a Disability?

A person with a disability is qualified if, with or without reasonable accommodation, s/he meets the essential eligibility requirements of a program or service offered by St Vladimir's Seminary.

What is a Reasonable Accommodation?

A reasonable accommodation is an adjustment to the way in which a program or service is provided that allows a qualified person with a disability to achieve meaningful access to that program or service. For example, a reasonable accommodation may consist of a modification of the seminary's policies or procedures or the provision of auxiliary aids or services. Reasonable accommodations do not alter the nature of the course or the degree requirements in any way. St Vladimir's Seminary is not required to make accommodations that fundamentally alter the nature of its curriculum, programs or services, or that are unduly burdensome either in terms of cost or administrative responsibility.

Does the Seminary Consider Disability When Making Admission Decisions?

St Vladimir's Seminary makes admission decisions regardless of an individual's disability. The seminary does not impose or apply admission or eligibility criteria that screen individuals on the basis of their disability, unless such criteria are necessary for the provision of the program, service, or activity being offered. The seminary believes that this carries out the intent of the Americans with Disabilities Act and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act. Students with disabilities desiring to enroll in any program, service, or activity of St Vladimir's Seminary must be able to meet the minimum standards of both the seminary and the particular program to which admission is sought, as specified in the academic catalog. It is within the student's discretion to inform the Admissions Committee of a disability if s/he wishes. Should a student do so, the seminary will not discriminate against the student on the basis of the disability and will make reasonable accommodations as necessary.

How Do I Receive an Accommodation for a Disability?

Students with disability are responsible for contacting the Disability Services Access Coordinator to register their disability prior to their first semester of enrollment at the seminary.

Students should not assume that the seminary has any information about their disability even if it was included in their application for admission. Students are not eligible for any accommodations until they have registered their disability with the Disability Services Access Coordinator. Subsequently, an accommodation plan will be established based on the student's disability, supporting documentation, and types of accommodation requested.

REQUEST FOR ACCOMMODATION

1. Registration of Disability. Applicants who have been accepted for admission, or current students who seek accommodation for a disability, are encouraged to contact Ann Sanchez, Disability Services Access Coordinator (Rangos 117, x323), as soon as possible to begin the process of developing an accommodation plan. Students are not eligible to receive academic and/or campus accommodations until they have registered their disability with the Disability Services Access Coordinator, nor does Disability Services grant accommodations retroactively. If new accommodations are needed, students must meet with Disability Services to discuss adjusting the accommodation plan and provide updated documentation, if needed.

2. Procedure. Students who seek academic and/or campus accommodation for disability must provide the Disability Services Access Coordinator with the following information:

- Identification of disability and supporting documentation (see guidelines below);
- Detailed explanation of how the disability currently affects and substantially limits the student's ability in the academic and/or campus setting;
- List of accommodations the student may have received in the past; and
- List of accommodations the student is requesting at St Vladimir's Seminary.

3. Examples of Accommodations: Reasonable accommodations vary for each student depending upon type of disability, needs, and supporting documentation. Examples of accommodations the seminary has provided to students include, but are not limited to, early registration, academic coaching and academic support services, including part-time study, extended test-taking time, assistance with books in alternative formats, and assistance in accessing campus buildings. Students are responsible, however, for arranging certain personal services, such as attendant care, mobility training, and transportation.

4. Requirement to Submit Requests Each Semester. Current students are responsible for submitting accommodation requests—to the Disability Services Access Coordinator—each semester, indicating the specific courses and/or activities involved and the accommodations sought in each case. Students must then pick up their letters in person and give the letters directly to their professors after class or during office hours, or to supervisors in the case of non-academic activities. This process allows students to self-identify and begin to discuss accommodations with their professors. We encourage all students to have a conversation with their professor about how they learn best.

SUPPORTING DOCUMENTATION

The kind of documentation needed may vary depending on the nature of the disability.

1. Learning Disabilities (LD)

Note: These guidelines for documentation of a learning disability are based upon those set forth by the Association on Higher Education and Disabilities (AHEAD). For more information please visit AHEAD's web site at <http://www.ahead.org>.

Currency

Since accommodations are based on the current impact of the learning disability to the student, documentation must be up to date (within the past three years).

Qualifications Of Diagnostician

Professionals diagnosing LD must have comprehensive training in differential diagnosis & direct experience with adolescents and adults with LD. The following professionals are considered qualified:

- Certified/licensed psychologists
- Neuropsychologists
- LD specialists
- Educational therapists

Diagnostic reports should include the names, titles, professional credentials, addresses, and phone numbers of the evaluators as well as the date(s) of testing.

Criteria For Comprehensive Assessment

Testing must include at least one assessment from each of the following areas:

Aptitude

- Wechsler Adult Intelligence Scale-Revised (WAIS-R or WAIS-III), must include Full Scale IQ, Verbal IQ, Performance IQ, and all subtest scores
- Woodcock Johnson Psycho-educational Battery-Revised: Tests of Cognitive Ability (must include either tests 1-7 or 1-14)
- Stanford-Binet Intelligence Scale
- Kaufman Adolescent & Adult Intelligence Test

Achievement: Reading

- Woodcock Johnson Psycho-educational Battery-Revised: Tests of Achievement
- Scholastic Abilities Test for Adults (SATA)
- Stanford Test for Academic Skills
- Wechsler Individual Achievement Test (WIAT)
- Nelson Denny Reading Skills Test
- Woodcock Reading Mastery Tests Revised

Achievement: Written Language

- Woodcock Johnson Psycho-educational Battery-Revised: Tests of Achievement
- Scholastic Abilities Test for Adults (SATA)
- Stanford Test of Academic Skills
- Wechsler Individual Achievement Test (WIAT)
- Test of Written Language

Note: The above list is not intended to be exhaustive or to limit assessment in other areas that may be pertinent to the individual's needs.

The Diagnostic Report*Diagnosis

The report must include a clear statement of the learning disability and the reasoning for this particular diagnosis as supported by the current diagnostic battery. A student's individual "learning style," "learning deficit," "learning differences," and "learning disorders" do not, in and of themselves, constitute a disability.

Diagnostic Interview

A summary of the diagnostic interview must be included. Relevant information regarding the student's academic history and learning processes in elementary, secondary, and postsecondary education should be addressed. The summary should also include developmental, medical, psychosocial, and family history as it relates to the student's current level of functioning.

Test Scores

All test scores must be included in the report, especially the standard scores and percentiles. This data should represent a substantial limitation to learning.

Descriptive Text

The report should indicate:

- That the evaluator rules out alternative explanations for the academic problems.
- Patterns in the individual's cognitive abilities, achievement, and information processing reflect the presence of a learning disability.
- The substantial limitation to a major life activity and the degree of its impact.

Accommodations

Report must indicate recommended accommodations that are appropriate at the graduate school level. Specific test results must support these recommendations.

2. Attention Deficit Disorder

Note: Although the more generic term "Attention Deficit Disorder" (ADD) is often used, we will use the official nomenclature from the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders (DSM 5), Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD).

Currency

Since accommodations are based on the current impact of the disability to the student, documentation must be up to date (within the past three years).

Qualifications of Diagnostician

Professionals diagnosing ADHD must have comprehensive training in differential diagnosis & direct experience with adolescents and adults with ADHD.

The following professionals are considered qualified:

- Clinical psychologists
- Neuropsychologists
- Psychiatrists
- Other qualified medical doctors

Evidence of Early Impairment

Because ADHD is, by definition, first exhibited in childhood and manifests itself in more than one setting, historical and academic information must be gathered by the evaluator.

Evidence of Current Impairment

Assessment should consist of more than just a self-report. It should include a history of attentional symptoms, including evidence of ongoing impulsive, hyperactive or inattentive behavior that has significantly impaired functioning over time.

Alternative Diagnosis and/or Explanation

The assessment should also examine the possibility for a co-existing diagnosis. It should explore possible alternative diagnoses including psychiatric and medical disorders as well as any educational or cultural factors that may impact the individual and result in behaviors similar to ADHD.

Diagnostic Battery

Neuropsychological or psycho-educational assessment is critical in determining the current impact of ADHD on the individual's ability to function in different settings. Assessment must include standardized measures for inattention, hyperactivity and impulsivity as delineated in the DSM 5.

Diagnostic Report and Summary

The diagnostic report must be a comprehensive interpretive summary synthesizing the evaluator's judgment for the diagnosis of ADHD.

The report must include:

- All quantitative information in standard scores and/or percentiles.
- All relevant developmental, medical, familial, medication, psychosocial, behavioral and academic information.

- A specific diagnosis of ADHD based on the DSM 5 diagnostic criteria.

The report must also identify in clear, direct language, the substantial limitation of a major life function presented by the ADHD. Specific recommendations for accommodations based on significant functional limitations must be supported by the assessment. Official letterhead with names, titles, professional credentials, addresses, and phone/fax number of the evaluator as well as the date(s) of testing.

3. Psychiatric/Psychological Disabilities

Psychiatric and psychological disabilities include but are not limited to: Depressive Disorders, Post Traumatic Stress Disorder, Bipolar Disorders, and Dissociative Disorders. A diagnosis by a licensed mental health professional (psychologist, psychiatrist, or a neurologist) is required and must include the diagnostician's license number.

Documentation must include:

- A clear statement of the disability, including the DSM 5 diagnosis and a summary of present symptoms. This diagnosis should be based upon a comprehensive clinical interview including psychological testing (when such testing is clinically appropriate).
- A summary of assessment procedures and evaluation instruments used to make the diagnosis and a summary of evaluation results, including standardized or percentile scores.
- Medical information relating to the student's needs to include the impact of medication, if applicable, on the student's ability to meet the demands of graduate school education.
- Information supporting substantial interference with one or more major life functions to determine eligibility for meeting criteria for a disability. The major life function(s) being affected must be stated in the documentation.
- Suggestions of reasonable accommodations that might be appropriate for a graduate school. These recommendations must be supported by the diagnosis.

4. Head/Traumatic Brain Injuries

Head Injury or Traumatic Brain Injury is considered a medical or clinical diagnosis. Individuals qualified to render a diagnosis for these disorders are practitioners who have been trained in the assessment of Head Injury or Traumatic Brain Injury. Recommended practitioners may include physicians, neurologists, licensed clinical psychologists, school psychologists, neuropsychologists and psychiatrists.

Documentation must include:

- A clear statement of the head injury or traumatic brain injury and the probable site of lesion.
- A summary of cognitive and achievement measures used and evaluation results including standardized scores or percentiles used to make the diagnosis.

- A summary of present residual symptoms that meet the criteria for diagnosis.
- Medical information relating to student's needs to include the impact of medication on the student's ability to meet the demands of the graduate school environment.
- Suggestions of reasonable accommodations that might be appropriate at the graduate school are encouraged. These recommendations should be supported by the diagnosis.

5. Physical Disabilities and/or Systemic Illnesses

Physical disabilities and systemic illnesses include but are not limited to: Mobility Impairments, Multiple Sclerosis, Cerebral Palsy, Chemical Sensitivities, spinal cord injuries, Cancer, AIDS, Muscular Dystrophy, and Spinal Bifida. Any physical disability and/or systemic illnesses are considered to be in the medical domain and require the expertise of a physician, including a neurologist, psychiatrist or other medical specialist with experience and expertise in the area for which accommodations are being requested.

Documentation must include:

- A clear statement of the medical diagnosis of the physical disability or systemic illness.
- Documentation for eligibility should be current, preferably within the last three years (the age of acceptable documentation is dependent upon the disabling condition, the current status of the student and the student's request for accommodations).
- A summary of assessment procedures and evaluation instruments used to make the diagnosis, including evaluation results and standardized scores if applicable.
- A description of present symptoms that meet the criteria for diagnosis.
- Medical information relating to the student's needs to include the impact of medication on the student's ability to meet the demands of the graduate school environment.
- Suggestions of reasonable accommodation that might be appropriate at the graduate school level are encouraged. These recommendations should be supported by the diagnosis.

6. Blindness/Visual Impairment

Ophthalmologists are the primary professionals involved in diagnosis and medical treatment of individuals who are blind or experience low vision. Optometrists provide information regarding the measurement of visual acuity as well as tracking and fusion difficulties (including but not limited to: eye movement disorders, inefficiency in using both eyes together, misalignment of the eyes, lazy eye, focusing problems, visual sensory disorders, and motor integration).

Documentation must include:

- A clear statement of vision related disability with supporting numerical description (the age of acceptable documentation is dependent upon the disabling condition, the current status of the student, and the student's request for accommodations).

- A summary of assessment procedures and evaluation instruments used to make the diagnosis.
- A summary of evaluation results including standardized scores, present symptoms that meet the criteria for diagnosis, medical information relating to the student's needs and the status of the individual's vision (static or changing), its impact on the demands of the academic program, narrative or descriptive text, providing both quantitative and qualitative information about the student's abilities that might be helpful in understanding the student's profile, including the use of corrective lenses and ongoing visual therapy (if appropriate), and suggestions of reasonable accommodations that might be appropriate at the graduate school level are encouraged. These recommendations should be supported by the diagnosis.

7. Deafness/Hearing Impairment

Services are provided to all deaf and hearing-impaired students at St Vladimir's Seminary who have a documented unaided bilateral hearing loss of at least 30 db. The audiologist who conducts this should be an impartial individual who is not related to the student.

Documentation must include:

- A clear statement of deafness or hearing impairment with an audiogram that has been completed within the last three years.
- A summary of assessment procedures used to make the evaluation and a narrative summary of results, name, address, phone, title and/or credentials of audiologist.

Health Insurance

The seminary does not have health care facilities on campus. In the interest of its entire student population, however, the seminary requires that each full-time or degree-seeking student and dependents be covered by health insurance. Students who are otherwise covered by health insurance must demonstrate that they are enrolled in a plan. Premiums, which are borne by the student and paid directly to the insurance provider, depend upon a variety of factors, including the age of the student, the number of dependents, and the specific benefits provided. Applicants therefore are urged to give careful consideration to their health needs. Students will not be permitted to register for classes until they have provided proof of enrollment in an appropriate plan.

The seminary does not have an existing relationship with insurance agencies, and therefore cannot provide any insurance solutions.

ADMISSIONS & FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Admissions

The seminary will consider applications for admission to its programs from all qualified Orthodox students who wish to prepare themselves for priestly ministry in the Orthodox Church, missionary work, teaching, or other forms of church service. Qualified non-Orthodox students may also be admitted and receive academic degrees and credit for their work.

In its admissions policy, as in the administration of its programs—educational, financial aid, student activities, and all others—St Vladimir’s Seminary does not discriminate on the basis of race, age, color, gender, handicap, or national or ethnic origin. This policy complies with the requirements of the Internal Revenue Service Procedure 321-1, Title VI of the 1964 Civil Rights Act and Title IX of the 1972 Educational Amendments as amended and enforced by the Department of Education.

The personal and academic information supplied by applicants forms an essential part of the admissions process. Failure to make written disclosure of information solicited on the application form or misrepresentation of the information supplied constitutes a prima facie basis for denial of admission. Where omission or misrepresentations come to light after admission and are reasonably believed to cast doubt upon the student’s suitability for seminary study, he or she is subject to dismissal.

APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS

Application materials may be found online in the Application Packet, or they may be furnished in hard copy by the seminary upon request. In addition to the completed application form, the following materials must be submitted:

All Applicants

In addition to the completed and signed application form, applicants must submit a recent photograph (full face, preferably 2 ½” x 2 ½”, electronic submissions acceptable), a copy of the applicant’s Baptism/Chrismation certificate, a personal essay, and a fully completed and signed background check consent form. Three recommendations (one of which must be from the applicant’s pastor) and official transcripts from each graduate or undergraduate institution attended must be sent directly to the seminary by the recommending individuals and educational institutions. In addition, personal interviews are required of all applicants. To arrange interviews, applicants should contact the Academic Advisor & Recruitment. Application fees and tuition information can be found at: www.svots.edu/admissions/tuition-and-fees.

All degree applicants (and residential non-degree applicants) must undergo a criminal background check. The cost of the background check is included in the application fee.

Upon notification of acceptance, the following medical information must be supplied:

- Proof of health insurance; and
- Proof of protection against measles, mumps, and rubella. (Persons born prior to January 1, 1957 are exempt from this requirement.)

Non-Degree Applicants

Applicants who wish to enroll in particular courses without pursuing a degree at St Vladimir's Seminary may apply as a non-degree student. Non-degree applicants currently enrolled in a degree program at another institution need only complete sections 1–4 of the application form, sign the application, and have an appropriate official from the home institution submit a letter stating that the applicant is in good standing and qualified to take the course(s) in question. All other non-degree applicants, including students who wish to audit courses at St Vladimir's, must contact the Academic Advisor & Recruitment for application requirements.

Master of Divinity Applicants

Applicants to the Master of Divinity (M.Div.) program must submit an additional essay, as specified on the application form, and receive the blessing of their bishop. The Hierarch's Blessing form must be sent directly to the seminary by the hierarch. (Please note that the Hierarch's Blessing form is to be submitted in addition to the three letters of recommendation required of all degree applicants.)

In accordance with the standards of the Association of Theological Schools (ATS), the seminary is on occasion able to admit to the M.Div. program applicants who do not possess a baccalaureate degree or its equivalent. Typically, only one or two such offers of admission may be made each year. Prospective students who apply to the M.Div. program without a baccalaureate degree or its equivalent must satisfy the following additional application requirements:

- Exceptionally strong endorsement by an ecclesiastical authority;
- An additional essay in which the applicant explains how his/her life experience has provided the necessary preparation for theological study at the graduate level;
- An additional interview with the Academic Dean;
- A proficiency examination administered at the time of the applicant's personal interviews; and
- Satisfactory results on the TOEFL (taken within the last five years; St. Vladimir's institutional code is 2804)

For more information, please contact the Academic Advisor & Recruitment.

Master of Arts Applicants

Applicants to the Master of Arts program are encouraged to secure the blessing of their hierarch. The Hierarch's Blessing form must be sent directly to the seminary by the hierarch. Applicants are also encouraged to secure two recommendations from former professors or other people who can attest to the applicant's ability to pursue academic work in theology.

Master of Theology Applicants

Applicants to the Master of Theology (Th.M.) program must submit a thesis proposal, as explained on the application form. While a hierarch's blessing is not required of Th.M. applicants, it is recommended. The Hierarch's Blessing form must be sent directly to the seminary by the hierarch. Please note that Th.M. students must also pass competency examinations—prior to matriculation—in ancient Greek and any languages required for their chosen thesis topic (in addition to English), as determined during the application process as a condition of admission. Th.M. applicants are strongly encouraged to obtain two recommendations from former professors or other people who can attest to the applicant's ability to pursue advanced academic work in theology.

Doctor of Ministry Applicants

Applicants to the Doctor of Ministry (D.Min.) program must also submit a letter of reference from their Chancellor, Dean, or Supervisor, and a personal essay that includes the following:

- Description of the applicant's current ministry and reflection on challenges faced in that ministry;
- Discussion of how the program is expected to enhance the applicant's ministry; and
- Proposals for two possible topics for the final project.

DEADLINES

St Vladimir's operates a rolling admissions procedure beginning February 1 and ending June 1. Complete applications received during this period will normally be acted upon during the month following their receipt. The deadline for all financial aid applications, including need-based grants, need-based scholarships, and merit-based scholarships is April 1. Applications for financial aid submitted after the deadline will be considered only if funds remain available. Notifications of financial aid awards are normally issued with offers of admission.

PERSONAL INTERVIEWS AND CAMPUS VISITS

Personal interviews are required of all applicants. Off-site interviews, usually with seminary alumni, or via telephone or Skype, are possible for those living at great distances from the seminary. Applicants must make arrangements for their personal interviews with the Academic Advisor & Recruitment.

Personal interviews may be combined with a campus visit. Campus visits are an excellent opportunity for applicants to attend classes, participate in chapel services, and meet faculty members. Overnight campus visits can be arranged with on-campus housing provided. There are no fees for housing or meals during these visits. Campus visits may be arranged by contacting the Academic Advisor & Recruitment.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

In order to undertake a program of study at St. Vladimir's Seminary, international students must demonstrate that they have attained a level of proficiency in English that is sufficient for graduate-level studies. The usual basis for evaluation is the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) of the Educational Testing Service, Box 955, Princeton, NJ 08540 (www.ets.org/toefl). The seminary's TOEFL Institute Code is 2804. The minimum TOEFL iBT scores required are 96 (M.Div.), 100 (M.A.), 104 (Th.M. and D.Min.). TOEFL waivers will be considered for applicants who have earned a degree from a college or university in the United States, or from a non-U.S. university where the primary language of instruction is English, as long as there is sufficient evidence that the applicant has attained the level of proficiency in English required for graduate-level studies.

After the student has undertaken a seminary program, he or she may be required to withdraw from it or to undertake remedial study if, in the judgment of the Faculty Council, he or she is found to be inadequately prepared in the English language.

Upon admission all international applicants must complete the Certification of Financial Support for INS Form I-20, available online, and deposit with the seminary the sum indicated on the form. This deposit must be received before the seminary can issue an I-20 form for an F1 visa application. International applicants will also be required to demonstrate that sufficient funds are available to cover all other expenses to be incurred during their course of study, including travel expenses to and from the United States.

MID-YEAR ADMISSION

All full-time degree-seeking students begin their course of study in the fall. Part-time M.A. and Th.M. students may, with special permission, commence their studies during the spring semester, but only if they meet the prerequisites of the course(s) they would like to take. Part-time students who commence their studies in the spring will be expected to participate in the full schedule of orientation activities, which are offered only in the fall, in order to matriculate as degree candidates.

PROBATIONARY ADMISSION

A student may be admitted to the seminary on academic probation in the following circumstances: if he or she has been admitted because of non-academic strengths in spite of a weak academic background as reflected in grades at other institutions; if he or she has completed the equivalent of a bachelor's degree in post-secondary studies but has not received the degree from an accredited college or university (or, in the case of Th.M. applicants, the equivalent of the M.Div. degree from an accredited seminary). The faculty monitors such students' progress closely and if necessary prescribes remedial instruction and/or reduction in course load. If the faculty, in its review of students at the end of the student's first semester of studies, finds that his or her academic performance has been satisfactory, the probationary status is normally removed.

On the other hand, if the student's academic performance has not been satisfactory, then the student may be dismissed from the seminary.

READMISSION AFTER WITHDRAWAL OR DISMISSAL

Readmission Within One Year

A student who has voluntarily withdrawn from the seminary while in good standing may be readmitted without reapplication within a period of one year, provided the request for readmission is received and approved by the Academic Advisor & Recruitment and the degree program director no later than one month before the beginning of the semester for which readmission is requested.

A student who has voluntarily withdrawn from the seminary while on probation may also be readmitted without reapplication within a period of one year but must offer satisfactory evidence of progress toward resolution of the difficulty, academic or otherwise, which led to the probation. Normally such students are readmitted only on probation. A student who has withdrawn for medical or psychological reasons must also offer satisfactory evidence that the condition that led to the withdrawal no longer hinders normal progress toward the degree.

Note: All financial obligations to the seminary must be satisfied and any outstanding course work must be completed before the Academic Advisor & Recruitment and the degree program director will consider a request for readmission. Readmitted students are normally required to fulfill any new requirements that may be in force at the time of readmission.

Readmission After One Year

After one year, readmission is considered only after the submission of a complete admissions application to the Academic Advisor & Recruitment and, in most cases, a personal interview.

Readmission after dismissal or administrative withdrawal for failure to make satisfactory academic progress cannot be considered until at least two semesters have elapsed. When requesting readmission, the student must offer satisfactory evidence that the difficulty, academic or otherwise, that led to the dismissal or administrative withdrawal has been overcome and that normal progress toward completion of the degree can be resumed. A personal interview is required. Normally such students are readmitted only on probation.

Note: All financial obligations to the seminary must be satisfied and any outstanding course work must be completed before the Academic Advisor & Recruitment will review an application for readmission. Readmitted students are normally required to fulfill any new requirements that may be in force at the time of readmission.

Required Deposits

Upon receiving an offer of admission, all readmitted students must submit a non-refundable enrollment deposit and a refundable security deposit.

DEFERRED ADMISSION

St Vladimir's Seminary does not defer offers of admissions. Applicants who do not accept an offer of admission by June 15 of the year in which it was granted must re-apply for admission the following year or during subsequent years. Applicants may request that transcripts be retained by the Office of Admissions for up to two years from the date of their first application; letters of recommendation must be resubmitted with a new application.

Financial Information

TUITION AND FEES

Charges for tuition, fees, and room & board are due and payable at the beginning of each semester. Full-time students may make arrangements with the Chief Financial Officer to pay these fees in installments, subject to a finance charge, the first of which installment is due at the beginning of the semester. All accounts must be paid in full for the previous term before the student is permitted to register for a new semester. If payment or other satisfactory arrangements have not been made by the end of the second week of the semester, the student will not be permitted to attend classes until payment or other arrangements have been made. All seminary, library, and bookstore accounts must be paid in full, or satisfactory arrangements for payment must be made, before any degree, transcript, or degree verification will be issued.

Important note: M.Div. students are required to complete one unit of Clinical Pastoral Education (CPE) at an ACPE-accredited hospital. Students are responsible for the CPE hospital fee, which in the New York region is approximately $850. Qualified students (only for summer CPE, i.e. not for CPE during fall and/or spring semester) are eligible for a stipend up to the amount of $2,000 (including the reimbursement of the hospital fee, minus financial aid provided by the hospital).

Student Financial Aid

St Vladimir's Seminary awards and distributes its financial resources with a view toward Christian charity and stewardship. Most seminary students receive some form of financial assistance, and students should be mindful that such aid is a privilege to be enjoyed thanks to many benefactors who have graciously given funds to the seminary.

All students are considered financially independent. Therefore, parental information is not required to determine need. The seminary does, however, require financial information from spouses of married students and full disclosure of grant and scholarship assistance from outside sources, such as, but not limited to, parish, diocesan, and archdiocesan education funds.

ELIGIBILITY FOR FINANCIAL AID

To be eligible for financial aid from St Vladimir's Seminary, a student must live on campus, be enrolled at the seminary on a full-time basis as a degree candidate, and be making satisfactory progress toward completion of the degree. To be considered full-time, students must be enrolled for at least twelve credits per semester. To be eligible for U.S. Government loans, students must be degree candidates and enrolled for at least six credits per semester.

Students enrolled on a full-time basis (as defined above) are eligible to receive aid from the seminary only for the number of semesters necessary for normal completion of a degree program. Therefore, M.Div. candidates are eligible to receive financial aid for no more than six semesters; M.A. candidates for no more than four semesters; and Th.M. candidates for no more than two semesters.

Satisfactory progress toward completion of a degree program is measured not only by a student's successful completion of courses (see "Satisfactory Progress" under "Academic Policies") but also by satisfactory participation in the seminary's extra-curricular activities of chapel worship and community service.

Exception in the Case of Probation or Special Needs

A residential degree candidate whose course load has been reduced by the Faculty Council in the case of probation or by the Academic Dean in the case of a student with special needs remains eligible for financial aid on a pro-rated basis, as long as he or she is enrolled for at least six credits and is otherwise making satisfactory progress toward completion of program requirements. (See "Probation and Loss of Award" below.)

APPLICATION DEADLINES

Prospective students who seek need-based financial aid granted or administered by the seminary (including U.S. Government loans) must complete the seminary's Financial Aid Application, contained in the Application Packet. In addition, domestic students are required to complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). Application materials and an estimated expense budget are usually available online in late December or early January. The deadline for financial aid applications is April 1. All applications received after April 1, or incomplete applications received prior to the deadline but completed after April 1, will be considered for financial aid only if funds remain available and/or on a wait-listed basis.

Prospective students who seek only merit-based financial aid do not need to complete the seminary's Financial Aid Application or the FAFSA process.

Returning students must reapply for financial aid each academic year. The required forms are the FAFSA (for domestic students) and the seminary's Financial Aid Application. The financial aid deadline is April 1. All applications received after April 1, or incomplete applications received prior to the deadline but completed after April 1, will be considered for financial aid only if funds remain available. Award notifications normally begin once final grades for the spring semester have been received by the Financial Aid Office.

TYPES OF FINANCIAL AID

The seminary administers four types of financial aid: need-based tuition grants, need-based scholarships, merit-based scholarships, and U.S. Government loans. Students who demonstrate need on the basis of a complete application are automatically considered for a need-based tuition grant or a need-based scholarship, as applicable.

Although financial aid applications are submitted on an annual basis, awards are distributed one semester at a time to eligible students, as defined above. The amount given per semester will normally be one half the total award for the year.

All need-based tuition grants and need-based scholarships consist of two components: an outright tuition grant and a matching grant opportunity. Outright grants are applied directly against a student's tuition. Matching grant funds are released on a dollar-for-dollar basis with funds received from outside ecclesial bodies or organizations such as dioceses, parishes, parish organizations, church aid organizations, or church scholarship funds. Funds received from private individuals do not qualify for matching grant funds. Outside funds must be sent directly by the sponsoring organization to the seminary. Donor organizations must submit their donation with the Donor Information and Submission form, available online, by the beginning of the semester for which the match applies. Donations received after the second week of the semester will be applied against eligible tuition in the subsequent semester. If the donor cannot remit the entire amount by the beginning of the semester they should indicate the payment schedule on the form, with the final payment due two weeks before the end of the semester.

Both outright tuition grants and matching grant opportunities are calculated as percentages of the seminarian's total tuition eligible for need-based aid, as determined by the student's semester enrollment (number of credits), FAFSA results (for domestic students), and Financial Aid Application. Matching grant percentages indicate the maximum total amount of the eligible tuition that the seminary will fund in matching grant—not the total amount to be covered by both matching grant and the outside funds. (For example, if a student were granted a need-based tuition grant of 50% in outright grant and 25% in matching grant opportunity, and the student were eligible to receive grants covering the entire full-time tuition amount of $12,000, then the student would receive $6000 in outright tuition grant, and the possibility of receiving up to $3000 from the seminary to match up to $3000 received from outside sources. If it were determined that the student was eligible for a total of only $8000 in total tuition grant, then he/she would be awarded an outright grant of $4000, and the possibility of receiving up to $2000 from the seminary to match up to $2000 received from external sources.)

Need-Based Tuition Grants

Need-based tuition grants are available to all students who meet the financial aid eligibility requirements defined above. For 2019–2020, need based grants are set at 50% of total eligible tuition in outright grant and 25% of total eligible tuition in matching grant. The total tuition eligible to be covered by need-based grants is determined on the basis of the student's semester enrollment (number of credits), FAFSA results (for domestic students), and information supplied on the seminary's Financial Aid Application. Need-based tuition grants do not cover credits in excess of 15 per semester.

To retain a need-based tuition grant, an eligible student must maintain at least a 2.0 semester GPA and a 2.3 cumulative GPA, participate regularly in seminary chapel services, and perform community service assignments satisfactorily.

Need-Based Scholarships

Need-based scholarships are available to qualified students who meet both the financial aid eligibility requirements defined above and the specific requirements of individual need-based scholarships. The total tuition eligible to be covered by need-based scholarships is determined on the basis of the student's semester enrollment (number of credits), FAFSA results (for domestic students), and information supplied on the seminary's Financial Aid Application. Need-based scholarships do not cover credits in excess of 15 per semester.

St Vladimir's currently administers two need-based scholarships:

- Saint Cyprian of Carthage Scholarship (renewable annually). Covering up to 100% of total eligible tuition (of which 25% is awarded on the basis of matching funds received from outside ecclesial bodies or organizations) and room/board of a single student, St Cyprian Scholarships are awarded to men and women of the Patriarchate of Alexandria who demonstrate need, strong academic performance, and promise of significant service to the Church in Africa. Priority is given to men who are enrolled in the M.Div. program and preparing for ordination.
- Serbian Scholarship (renewable annually). Covering up to 100% of total eligible tuition (of which 25% is awarded on the basis of matching funds received from outside ecclesial bodies or organizations) and room/board of a single student, Serbian Scholarships are awarded to Serbian or Serbian-American men and women who demonstrate need, strong academic performance, and promise of significant service to the Church. Priority is given to men who are enrolled in the M.Div. program and who are preparing for ordination.

To retain a need-based scholarship, an eligible student must maintain at least a 2.0 semester GPA and a 2.3 cumulative GPA, participate regularly in seminary chapel services, and perform community service assignments satisfactorily.

Merit-Based Scholarships

Merit-based scholarships are available to qualified students who meet both the financial aid eligibility requirements defined above and the specific requirements of individual merit-based scholarships.

St Vladimir's currently administers one merit-based scholarship:

- Academic Dean's Fellowship. Covering 100% of tuition, Academic Dean's Fellowships are awarded to full-time candidates for the Th.M. degree who show promise of success in future academic work and/or of significant service to the Church. Successful candidates typically have a cumulative grade point average of at least 3.7 in their first theological degree. Academic Dean's Fellows serve as peer writing tutors in the seminary's writing center or teaching assistants for members of the faculty.

All Th.M. applicants will be considered for the Academic Dean's Fellowship. Candidates are notified of an Academic Dean's Fellowship award in their letter of admission.

The Academic Dean's Fellowship does not cover credits in excess of 15 per semester.

U.S. Government Loan Programs

The seminary participates in the William D. Ford Federal Direct Loan Program. This program allows students to borrow funds to help meet their educational costs at the post-secondary level and is available to US citizens and permanent-resident aliens. Applicants must be in good academic standing and enrolled at least half time, and they may not be in default on any previous loans.

To begin the loan process, a student must complete a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). The seminary's Title IV school code for the FAFSA is G02833. Failure to use this code will cause a delay in the processing of the award. A signed copy of the student's previous year's income tax return and W-2 form(s) may be required for students selected for verification during the FAFSA process. FAFSA applications are made online at www.fafsa.ed.gov.

The Direct Loan Program offers the following types of loans, which are not based on financial need:

- Unsubsidized Direct Loan: unsubsidized loans for graduate/professional students to help pay for education expenses up to $20,500. Interest is charged during all periods, even during the time a student is in school and during grace and deferment periods. A six-month grace period applies to payments of principal only. Students may allow interest to accrue and be added to the principal amount of the loan, also known as capitalization. However, capitalization increases the total repayment amount as interest is charged on a higher principal.
- Graduate PLUS Loan: unsubsidized loans for graduate/professional students to help pay for education expenses up to the cost of attendance, less other financial aid received. Interest is charged during all periods. Repayment begins sixty days after the final loan disbursement. Graduate students will automatically be granted an in-school deferment as long as long as they are enrolled at least half-time. A credit check is required.

PROBATION AND LOSS OF AWARD

Any student who does not meet the minimum conditions for retaining a seminary grant or scholarship, as defined above, will be placed on probation for the following semester. If the student demonstrates appropriate improvement during the semester, then probation is lifted and the student continues to be eligible for seminary financial assistance.

If, however, the student fails to show sufficient improvement, then the student becomes ineligible for further financial assistance from the seminary, although he or she may, depending on the circumstances, be permitted to continue as a degree candidate. If a student who has previously been on probation should fail a second time to meet the minimum conditions, then the student becomes ineligible to receive further financial assistance from the seminary.

If a student's GPA falls below 2.0 in any semester, then he or she automatically forfeits financial assistance from the seminary; no probationary period will be allowed.

REFUNDS

Each semester's financial aid is applied toward the student's seminary account at the time of registration. Seminary awards are given with the understanding that the student will be in attendance for the full semester. If a student withdraws from the seminary during the semester under circumstances permitting a refund of fees, then eligible fees will be refunded—to student, matching donor organization, scholarship fund—on the basis of an official withdrawal date and in accordance with the seminary's refund schedule. Seminary grant or scholarship awards will not be included in the calculation of the refund.

Withdrawal Date

A student's official withdrawal date is determined as follows:

- A student is considered officially withdrawn if the Academic Dean is notified by the student in writing or by phone of intent to withdraw. If a student sends written notification of intent to withdraw, the withdrawal date is the date the letter is received via postal, electronic, or fax mail.
- If a student ceases attendance without providing official notification, the withdrawal date will be the midpoint of the term. In the case when an official notification was not provided by the student because of circumstances beyond the student's control, i.e., illness, accident, grievous personal loss, or other circumstances, the date related to the onset of that circumstance will be used as the withdrawal date. This date will be determined by the Academic Dean.

Refund Schedule

Eligible fees paid by or on behalf of the student will be refunded to the payer or scholarship fund on the basis of the official withdrawal date (see above) and in accordance with the following schedule:

- Before new student orientation and classes begin – 100% refund of tuition and eligible fees; 100% refund of room and board
Not Refunded: Enrollment deposit
- During new student orientation, or first or second week – 100% refund of tuition and eligible fees; prorated refund of room and board, based on time remaining in the semester
Not Refunded: Enrollment deposit and registration fee
- During third week – 75% refund of tuition and eligible fees; prorated refund of room and board, based on time remaining in the semester
Not Refunded: Enrollment deposit and registration fee
- During fourth week – 50% refund of tuition and eligible fees; pro-rated refund of room and board, based on time remaining in the semester
Not Refunded: Enrollment deposit and registration fee

- During fifth week – 25% refund of tuition and eligible fees; pro-rated refund of room and board, based on time remaining in the semester
Not Refunded: Enrollment deposit and registration fee
- After fifth week – no refund of tuition or fees; pro-rated refund of room and board, based on time remaining in the semester

Return of Title IV Funds

In accordance with the Return of Title IV Funds regulation (R2T4), when a U.S. Government financial aid recipient withdraws from all classes prior to completing 60% of a term (i.e., nine weeks), it is the seminary's responsibility to determine the withdrawal date and amount of loan assistance that the student earned. If a student received less assistance than what was earned, he or she may be able to receive those funds. On the other hand, if the student received more assistance than earned, the unearned funds must be returned by the school and/or aid recipient to the appropriate aid program. The Student Affairs Administrator recalculates eligibility for Title IV funds using the following Federal Return of Title IV funds formula:

- Percentage of term completed equals the number of days completed up to the withdrawal date divided by the total days in the term. (Any break of five days or more is not counted as part of the days in the term.) This percentage is also the percentage of earned aid.

Funds are returned to the appropriate U.S. Government program based on the percentage of unearned aid using the following formula:

- Aid to be returned equals (100% minus the percentage of earned aid) multiplied by (the total amount of aid that could have been disbursed during the term).

If a student earned less aid than was disbursed, the institution would be required to return a portion of the funds and the student would be required to return a portion of the funds. Keep in mind that when Title IV funds are returned, the student borrower may owe a debit balance to the institution.

The seminary must return the amount of Title IV funds for which it is responsible no later than 45 days after the date of the student's withdrawal. Refunds are allocated in the following order:

- Unsubsidized Direct Loans (other than PLUS loans)
- Graduate PLUS Loans

FINANCIAL EXIGENCY

St Vladimir's Seminary awards or renews all grants and scholarships once a year during the spring application process. After the financial aid deadline has passed the seminary is able to consider new financial aid awards only if funds remain available and/or on a wait-listed basis. After the award or renewal of a grant or scholarship the seminary is unable to consider modified requests for financial assistance.

If a student should experience significant, unforeseen financial difficulty after the award/renewal period and the exhaustion of financial aid funds, he or she is encouraged to speak to the Chief Financial Officer prior to the beginning of the semester in order to arrange a formal payment plan.

Seminary Scholarship Funds

St Vladimir's Seminary believes that no one should be prevented from studying at the seminary for financial reasons. To be able to provide necessary financial assistance, the seminary depends on the generosity of friends and benefactors who contribute annual scholarship grants or who have established permanent scholarship endowments. In applying for assistance, students therefore should remember their own moral responsibility toward the seminary and its benefactors.

CURRICULUM

Degree Programs

St Vladimir's Seminary offers programs leading to the degrees of Master of Divinity (M.Div.), Master of Arts (M.A.), Master of Theology (Th.M.), and Doctor of Ministry (D.Min.).

The Master of Divinity program may be described in the most general terms as a graduate professional degree whose purpose is preparation for the ministries of the Church. At St Vladimir's the degree program is designed chiefly for qualified Orthodox students who wish to prepare themselves for ordination to priestly ministry in the Orthodox Church, though it also provides appropriate preparation for other forms of church service, such as hospital chaplaincy with certification in Clinical Pastoral Education, and for graduate study in theology and related disciplines.

The Master of Arts program in general theological studies is intended for those wishing to explore the major academic areas within the theological curriculum without the professional preparation demanded of M.Div. candidates. It can provide appropriate preparation for further graduate study in theology or simply a framework for lay theological study on a disciplined basis. It does not provide the educational qualifications needed for priestly ordination. Students considering ordination therefore are directed to the M.Div. program.

The Master of Theology program seeks to encourage scholarly research and reflection in Orthodox theology. It is intended for qualified Orthodox students from the U.S. or abroad who wish to prepare for higher-level studies, teaching, and research, and for qualified non-Orthodox students who wish to specialize in Orthodox studies.

The Doctor of Ministry program enhances the practice of ministry for ordained and lay ministers in the Orthodox Church. The program integrates enhanced competencies in pastoral analysis with skills necessary to lead students to an advanced understanding of the nature and purposes of ministry. Working in communities of teachers and learners, the students gain deeper knowledge about the practice of serving others in Christian love as they grow in spiritual maturity as ministers of the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

Administration of the Curriculum

CHANGE OF CLASSIFICATION

A student seeking a change of classification or transfer from one degree program to another (e.g., a non-degree student seeking to enter a degree program or an M.Div. candidate seeking to transfer to the M.A. program) does not have to repeat the full application procedure described in the "Admissions" section of the catalog.

Non-Degree Student

A non-degree student seeking to enter a degree program should contact the Academic Advisor & Recruitment, who will review admission requirements of the degree program in question and determine what the applicant must do to complete his or her application. No more than 12 credits earned as a non-degree student will be accepted toward fulfillment of degree program requirements.

Degree Candidate

A degree candidate seeking to transfer from one degree program to another should first meet with the Academic Advisor & Recruitment (to review the admission requirements of the new degree program and determine which application materials, if any, must be submitted or resubmitted) and then with the Academic Dean (to review degree requirements and determine how many earned credits from the student's current program will be accepted toward fulfillment of the requirements of the new degree). Program restrictions, if any, are listed in the course descriptions of the "Announcement of Courses" section of the catalog. Finally, the student will submit a written request to the Academic Dean, who will in turn present it and the student's updated application to the Faculty Council for consideration. The request should be accompanied by a brief personal statement of 100–200 words indicating why the transfer is desired and what relationship this has to the student's vocational goals.

CLASS ATTENDANCE FOR RESIDENTIAL COURSES

Class attendance is essential for achieving course and program objectives. Absence or tardiness diminishes the effectiveness of courses and programs. Consequently, students are expected to attend all class sessions of the courses in which they are enrolled. Absence or persistent tardiness may result in the lowering of course grades or even dismissal from a course, as stipulated by the seminary's attendance policy and noted in course syllabuses:

Excused Absence

- In the event that a student is unable to attend class, expects to arrive late, or needs to leave early, the student must contact the instructor no less than twenty-four hours in advance of the class, and request permission for an excused absence;
- In the case of a medical emergency, students will be excused from attending class if they provide explanation for their absence, normally within twenty-four hours following the absence;
- Course instructors will decide how students are to make up any work missed because of absence, including missed lectures and in-class discussions; however
- Missing more than 25% of class sessions, whether excused or unexcused, normally requires mandatory withdrawal from the course.

Unexcused Absence

- Unexcused absence or tardiness may lead to a grade reduction for the course, as stipulated in the course syllabus;

- Course instructors will decide how students are to make up any work missed because of absence, including lectures and in-class discussions; however
- Missing more than 25% of class sessions, whether excused or unexcused, normally requires mandatory withdrawal from the course.

Makeup Classes

1. Coverage of Class. If an instructor must miss a scheduled class, whether due to travel, illness, or inclement weather, then he or she is encouraged to make arrangements with a colleague for coverage of the class. Coverage is approved by the Academic Dean and is expected to fulfill course objectives. Since the class is not canceled in this instance, no makeup is required.

2. Rescheduled Class. If an instructor is unable to make arrangements for coverage of the class, then the class session is rescheduled, normally on a Friday to avoid class conflicts. Rescheduled classes are announced by the instructor and posted on the Academic Calendar.

CLASS ATTENDANCE FOR HYBRID COURSES

Federal guidelines for online or hybrid forms of education require schools to demonstrate academic attendance by the student (see Federal Student Aid Handbook, Volume 5). In a distance education context, documenting that a student has logged into an online course is not sufficient, by itself, to demonstrate academic attendance.

Online Sessions

1. Evidence of Academic Attendance. Academic attendance is documented when a student participates in class or is otherwise engaged in an academically related activity. Examples of acceptable evidence of academic attendance in a distance education program include:

- Initiating contact with a faculty member to ask a course-related question;
- Viewing and/or completing a tutorial;
- Contributing to an online discussion or text chat session;
- Working through exercises;
- Submitting an assignment or working draft; and
- Taking a quiz or exam.

2. Tardiness. Effective class discussion during the online portion of a course depends on timely submission of assignments. Failure to post weekly assignments by the deadline specified by the instructor is regarded as tardiness, as long as the assignment is posted within 24 hours of the deadline. In the case of unexcused tardiness, assignments submitted after the due date will be penalized by a mandatory grade reduction. Note: Students are not penalized for delays in contributing to peer-review discussions due to another student's late posting of the primary assignment.

3. Absence. Failure to post a weekly assignment within the 24-hour window established by the instructor or failure to post the assignment at all is regarded as absence. Missing more than 25% of online class sessions, i.e., two sessions, normally requires mandatory withdrawal from the course. Course instructors decide how students are to make up any work missed because of absence.

Onsite Intensive Sessions

1. Requirement to Attend All Onsite Intensive Sessions. All seminary degree programs are accredited as residential programs. Therefore, the majority of contact hours for each hybrid course—at least 51%—must be completed onsite in a face-to-face context. Students may not petition to miss onsite intensives, or portions thereof.

2. Absence. Failure to attend all sessions of the onsite intensive for any reason may result in mandatory withdrawal from the course.

CONFIDENTIALITY

Recognizing the need for confidentiality of student records, the seminary complies with the provisions of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act. Accordingly, no one but authorized officers of the institution and the student may have access to a student's record, and no copy of a student's transcript, test scores, or other evaluation will be supplied to another person or agency without the student's express written consent.

Directory Information

The one exception is that the seminary may release "directory information" items without prior student consent. Directory information is defined as information that would not generally be considered harmful or an invasion of privacy if disclosed. Designated directory information at St Vladimir's Seminary includes the following:

1. Name
2. Address (local, permanent, electronic mail)
3. Telephone number
4. Jurisdiction
5. Degree program
6. Year in program
7. Enrollment status (full-time, part-time, or not enrolled)
8. Dates of attendance
9. Degrees and honors received

Note: Degrees will not be verified nor any information released, however, unless the student has met all outstanding financial obligations to the seminary.

Request to Release Information

At the same time, the seminary recognizes that appropriate ecclesiastical authorities (diocesan bishop, central church administration) have a legitimate interest in their students' work and behavior. Therefore, students are given the opportunity—normally at their initial registration—to request in writing that copies of their grades and other forms of evaluation be sent at regular intervals to the appropriate ecclesiastical authority. The student is, of course, under no obligation from the seminary to make this request and may rescind it at any time.

A student, present or former, may inspect his or her record, except for those letters of reference that the student expressly waived the right to inspect, by application to the Registrar.

EXTENSION FOR COURSE WORK

All coursework must be completed within the semester by the deadlines established by the course instructor.

Advisor-approved theses and final projects are to be submitted by the deadline posted on the academic calendar.

Students who find themselves unable to complete coursework, thesis, or final project by semester deadlines may be granted an extension to complete work beyond the end of the semester. When extensions beyond the end of the semester are approved, the official notation “I Grade” is entered on the student’s transcript to indicate that the final grade was originally an incomplete.

Important Note: Students who request an extension beyond the end of the semester and receive an incomplete in a course or thesis are not eligible for Academic Dean’s List honors in that semester.

Extensions within the Semester

Within the semester an instructor may grant extensions, but only if he or she considers that the particular circumstances justify this. If no extension has been granted, the instructor may refuse to accept the work in question or lower the student’s grade for it, thus also affecting the student’s semester grade.

Note: Students who are asked to participate in a major seminary function, such as a travel choir trip over a weekend, are to be granted an extension of up to one week, if requested, for major assignments (such as a test or paper) scheduled or due on a Monday or Tuesday following the choir trip.

Extensions beyond the End of the Semester

1. Conditions for Extension. Coursework extensions beyond the end of the semester are normally granted only for serious reasons and only if the following conditions are met: a) at least 50% of course requirements to date has been completed, e.g., a completed rough draft in the case of a final paper; b) the student’s work to date is passing; and c) attendance has been satisfactory. In such cases—and only in such cases—the grade “I” (Incomplete) may be given.

If the instructor would like to grant an extension to a student who has not met the conditions for an extension (or in lieu of a failing grade), he or she may assign the grade “FI” (Failure Incomplete). In such cases, a mandatory grade reduction in the final course grade normally applies.

2. Deadlines for Completing Work. Incompletes must be made up no later than January 15 (for fall semester extensions), June 15 (for spring semester extensions), or September 15 (for summer term extensions). If the outstanding work is not completed by the deadline, the temporary grade “I” or “FI” will automatically be converted to an “F” by the registrar. When an incomplete is replaced by a permanent grade, the official notation “I Grade” remains on the student’s transcript indicating that the final grade was originally an incomplete.

Note: Students who are unable to continue their enrollment in the following semester and must withdraw from the program may be granted an extension of up to one year to complete their coursework.

3. Request for Extension. Any student requesting a coursework extension beyond the end of the semester must complete the “Request for Extension” form and submit it for approval to the course instructor, who will in turn present the form for final approval to the Academic Dean. When completed, all outstanding work must be submitted—by the deadline—to the Office of the Academic Dean, which will make arrangements for grading late papers and proctoring missed exams, rather than directly to the course instructor.

EXTENSION FOR THESIS OR FINAL PROJECT

1. Determination of Sufficient Progress. Thesis or final project extensions beyond the end of the semester are granted only if the advisor determines that sufficient progress has been made and that the thesis or final project is more likely than not to be completed by the submission deadline of the following semester. The following guidelines for thesis or project extensions apply:

a. Students registered for the first semester of a two-semester sequence for thesis (TS 401) or final project (TS 501):

- Students who make sufficient progress by the semester deadline will be awarded academic credit for TS 401 or TS 501 and be permitted to register for TS 402 or TS 502 in the following semester.
- Students who do not make sufficient progress by the submission deadline will normally be granted an extension until the deadline for completing extensions (January 15 for fall semester extensions, June 15 for spring semester extensions, or September 15 for summer term extensions), when the advisor will again determine whether sufficient progress has been made. If sufficient progress has indeed been made, academic credit for TS 401 or TS 501 will be awarded (with an “I Grade” notation on the transcript) and the student will be permitted to register for TS 402 or TS 502. However, if the advisor determines that sufficient progress has still not been made, the student will be withdrawn from the first semester of thesis or project registration (with the permanent grade W [Withdrawal]) and be required to reregister for TS 401 or TS 501 in the subsequent semester.

b. Students registered for a one-semester thesis (TS 306 or TS 310) or the second semester of a two-semester sequence (TS 402 or TS 502):

- Students who do not complete the thesis or final project by the submission deadline posted on the academic calendar may, if the advisor determines that sufficient progress has been made, be granted a one-semester extension or continuation (see “Continuation Registration” below) to complete the thesis (with an “I Grade” notation on the transcript).

- Students who do not complete the thesis or final project after one semester of extension or continuation may, if the advisor determines that sufficient progress has been made, be granted permission by the Academic Dean to register for one additional semester of extension or continuation.
- Students who do not complete the thesis or project after two semesters of extension or continuation will normally be withdrawn from the thesis or project registration (with the permanent grade W [Withdrawal]).

2. Continuation Registration. Students who have finished all coursework but have not completed their thesis or final project by the thesis submission deadline, which is posted on the academic calendar, or other program requirement, e.g., CPE or the M.Div. Senior Oral Exam, by the deadline for graduating students must register for continuation and pay the continuation fee in the following semester(s) in order to remain degree candidates. Failure to register for continuation and pay the fee will cause the student to be administratively withdrawn from the program. In the event that the student is unable to complete the thesis or project even after continuation registration(s), the permanent grade W (Withdrawal) will be entered on the student's transcript.

3. Request for Extension. Any student requesting a thesis or final project extension beyond the end of the semester must first secure the approval of the thesis or project advisor and then submit an email request—before the deadline for submitting theses and final projects—to the Academic Dean, cc'ing the advisor.

GRADING

Notations

The following notations are used in the evaluation of student course work:

A+ (4.0), A (4.0), A- (3.7)—Exceptionally good performance demonstrating a superior understanding of the subject matter, a foundation of extensive knowledge, and a skillful use of concepts.

B+ (3.3), B (3.0), B- (2.7)—Good performance demonstrating capacity to use the appropriate concepts, a good understanding of the subject matter, and an ability to handle the problems encountered in the subject.

C+ (2.3), C (2.0), C- (1.7)—Generally satisfactory performance despite notable shortcomings, demonstrating a basic understanding of the subject matter and fundamental concepts, and an ability to handle relatively simple problems.

D (1.0)—Marginal performance despite evidence of serious effort, demonstrating only partial familiarity with the subject matter and limited capacity to deal with relatively simple problems and concepts; deficiencies serious enough to make it inadvisable to proceed further in the field without additional work. A student must repeat the course if it is an introductory course required for the degree program in which he or she is enrolled. The original grade of D, which remains on the student's transcript, and the grade earned in the repeated course will both be counted in the grade point average. The credits awarded for the original course will be superseded by the credits awarded for the repeated course.

F (0.0)—Unacceptable, failing work for which no credit can be given. A student must repeat a failed course if it is required for the degree program in which he or she is enrolled; if it is elective, another course approved by the Academic Dean may be substituted. The original grade of F, which remains on the student’s transcript, and the grade earned in the repeated or substituted course will both be counted in the grade point average.

The grade AU (Audit) indicates formal auditing of a course.

The grade I (Incomplete) is recorded when an extension to complete work beyond the semester has been granted by the course instructor and approved by the Academic Dean. When an incomplete is replaced by a permanent grade, an official notation (I Grade) appears on the student’s transcript indicating that the final grade was originally an incomplete.

The grade FI (Failure Incomplete) is recorded when an extension to complete work beyond the semester has been granted by the course instructor, at the instructor’s initiative, and approved by the Academic Dean. When an incomplete is replaced by a permanent grade, an official notation “I Grade” appears on the student’s transcript indicating that the final grade was originally an incomplete.

The grade P (Pass) is recorded when a student successfully completes a course offered on a pass/fail basis. Such courses are credited toward graduation requirements but are not calculated in the cumulative grade point average.

The grade W (Withdrawal) is recorded when a student withdraws from a course after the deadline for changes in registration because of illness or other reasons regarded as acceptable by the Faculty Council.

The grade WA (Withdrawal Audit) is recorded when a student withdraws from an audited course after the deadline for changes in registration.

The grade WF (Withdrawal Failing) is recorded when a student withdraws from a course after the deadline for registration changes for a reason regarded as unacceptable by the Faculty Council, or as a result of disciplinary action, or if his or her work at the time of withdrawal is not of passing quality.

Grade Appeal

The determination of grades is the responsibility of the instructor of the course. A grade shall be changed only with the consent of the instructor of the course and with the approval of the Academic Dean, except that, in cases of absence of the instructor or of a palpable injustice, the appropriate method of adjusting grades established by the Faculty Council shall be followed.

A student contesting a grade is encouraged to speak first with the responsible instructor. If the issue cannot be resolved in this way, the student may address an appeal to the Academic Dean, who will then bring the matter before the Faculty Council for its final determination.

Academic Dean's List

In the course of its review of students, the Faculty Council may commend M.Div. and M.A. students whose academic work and participation in all other aspects of seminary life during the semester have been outstanding. To be named to the Academic Dean's List at St Vladimir's Seminary, an honoree must have been a full-time degree candidate with at least 12 earned credit hours and at least a 3.70 grade point average for that semester with no grade less than B. Honorees will also have participated regularly in chapel services and performed community service assignments commendably. A notation for Academic Dean's List is entered on the student's official transcript.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE OR WITHDRAWAL

A regular student who for any reason finds it necessary to take a leave of absence or withdraw from the seminary should notify the Academic Dean and the Director of Formation. Requests for withdrawal made after the second Friday of the semester must be approved by the Faculty Council. Without this approval, a grade of WF (Withdrawal Failing) will be recorded for all courses for which the student is registered.

If a student is considering a leave of absence or withdrawal from the seminary, it is presumed that such a decision has been made prayerfully and in consultation with the student's father confessor, the Academic Dean, and the Director of Formation:

- "Leave of absence" is a temporary suspension of studies for one or two semesters, as approved by the Faculty Council. No leave of absence will be granted for more than one full academic year. Students who wish to return after an absence extending beyond one academic year will be required to reapply for admission.
- "Withdrawal" is a permanent cessation of studies. All students who withdraw from the seminary but who wish later to return will be required to reapply for admission.

Once the decision to leave the seminary has been made (and before exiting the campus), the student is expected to arrange a meeting with the Director of Formation, who will act as the point person to guide the student through the departure process. The Director of Formation will provide the student with a checklist of seminary administrators with whom to meet. The student will return the completed checklist to the Director of Formation, who will file the document with the Student Affairs Administrator. The student will meet with the following administrators:

- Academic Dean, to officially close the student's academic record in the case of a withdrawal, or to review the procedures for resuming studies in the case of a leave of absence.
- Librarian, to ensure that all library books have been returned and all fines paid.
- Chief Financial Officer, to ensure that all financial matters have been settled. Students who withdraw from the seminary may qualify for a refund of certain fees on a prorated basis.

- Plant Manager, to ensure that before the student has left campus the dorm room or apartment has been inspected for damages. If damages to the dorm room or apartment are observed, such damages will be deducted from the damage deposit collected at the beginning of the year. The student will be billed for any damages in excess of the damage deposit. The student is expected to leave the dormitory room or apartment clean and empty of personal belongings. The seminary will dispose of any personal belongings left behind and the student will incur the costs of the disposal.
- Lastly, the Director of Formation, to ensure that all responsibilities for departure on the part of the student and the seminary have been completed, to receive the dorm or apartment key, to review how the student's departure is to be communicated to the seminary community, and to obtain a forwarding address. In every circumstance, the Director of Formation has discretion to expedite the process.

REGISTRATION

During the registration period before the beginning of each semester, each student is registered for a specific number of courses. A late registration fee may be imposed after that period. Changes in courses or status (drop/add, credit/audit) are permitted only with the official recorded permission of the Academic Dean. After the second Friday of the semester, no changes whatever are permitted.

Audit

The term "audit" is reserved for formal arrangements in which a student agrees to attend a course regularly and to be responsible for such obligations as may be arranged with the instructor, but without academic credit. A student must formally register for an audit with the Registrar, following normal registration procedures, and a record of the audit will appear on the student's academic transcript. Officially audited courses cannot be repeated for academic credit.

Courses with limited enrollment or those demanding full participation, such as seminars and language courses, are normally not open to auditors. Other courses may be open to auditors only on a space-available basis.

Master of Theology Seminars

Qualified M.A. and M.Div. students (with second- or third-year standing and a minimum cumulative grade point average of 3.5) are permitted to register for Th.M. seminars, as long as these courses do not conflict with seminary program requirements. Students must also meet the normal prerequisites for the course in which they seek to enroll and receive permission of the Academic Dean. Instruction, activities, and assignments are set to the competence and needs of Th.M. students. Auditors are not permitted in Th.M. seminars.

New York Theological Consortium

Th.M. students and qualified M.A. and M.Div. students are permitted to take up to six credits of course work at Fordham and the other schools of the New York Theological Consortium (Union Theological Seminary, The General Theological Seminary, New York Theological Seminary, and Hebrew Union College), as long as these courses do not conflict with seminary program requirements. Students must meet the normal prerequisites for the courses in which they seek to enroll and comply with the enrollment procedures required by St Vladimir's Seminary and consortium schools. Permission of the Academic Dean is required before St Vladimir's students may begin the enrollment process.

THESIS & FINAL PROJECT GUIDELINES

Thesis Proposal

To register for thesis, students must submit—at the time of registration (see below the Registration deadline)—an approved thesis proposal of 4–5 pages; the proposal must justify its topic and identify the problem or issue under investigation:

- A proposal for TS 306 is grounded in a course of readings of 10–12 state-of-the-question books and articles on a precisely focused topic chosen and studied under the guidance of one of the members of the faculty.
- A proposal for TS 310 must outline the research problem to be investigated and give a sense of critical methodology and research approach.

In both cases, the proposal must also include a working title and bibliography, which is not intended to be exhaustive but must show that the student is familiar with the main works in the field, in particular those that will be of value to the project. Correct bibliographical style and good English stylistics are essential for acceptance of the proposal. Finally, the proposal must be approved by a member of the faculty, who will normally serve as the thesis advisor, and be submitted to the Office of the Academic Dean for final approval. The Academic Dean will make the final decision in assigning thesis advisors.

Registration Deadline

Students who are unable to submit a thesis proposal at the time of registration may not register for thesis until a proposal has been approved. The final deadline for thesis registration is the second Friday of the semester.

Thesis Submission

A style sheet containing detailed instructions for the preparation of the thesis is available online. After the advisor has accepted the final version of the thesis, an electronic copy of the thesis (as PDF file) must be submitted to the Office of Academic Dean by the deadline indicated in the Academic Calendar. Students whose theses are not submitted on time will normally register, without grade penalty, for continuation in the following semester. Students who miss the spring semester deadline may, however, be eligible to walk at commencement and graduate in September.

Continuation Registration

Students who do not complete their theses by the thesis submission deadline, which is posted on the academic calendar, must register for continuation (CTN) and pay the continuation fee in the following semester(s) in order to remain degree candidates. Failure to register for continuation and pay the fee will cause the student to be administratively withdrawn from the degree program.

In the event that the student is unable to complete the thesis even with continuation registration(s), the permanent grade W (Withdrawal) will be entered on the student's transcript.

Special Provisions for Honors Thesis

The honors thesis is evaluated by two readers: the first reader is the student's thesis advisor, who is a full-time or sessional member of the faculty, and the second is appointed by the Academic Dean from among the other faculty of the seminary.

Thesis Grade. Each reader submits a letter grade with written comments, which become an official part of the student's record. In the calculation of the student's cumulative grade point average, the senior thesis is treated as the equivalent of three credits of course work, with the grade assigned as follows:

- For a difference of one increment (e.g., A and A-), the higher grade becomes the final grade (in this case, A).
- For a difference of two increments (e.g., A and B+), the average grade becomes the final grade (in this case, A-).
- For a difference of three or more increments (e.g., A and B), the Academic Dean instructs the readers to reread the thesis and resubmit their grades.
- When both readers assign the grade A and substantiate the grade in their written comments, the faculty council will entertain a motion to commend the thesis, which commendation is noted on the student's official transcript.

Library Copy. Additionally, the thesis in its approved form—and on white, acid-free bond paper—is to be deposited with the librarian no later than one week after the thesis submission deadline. (Note: Students who do not submit the library copy of the thesis by the deadline will be charged a $100 fee for the library to print the thesis.) This copy of the thesis will be bound (for which reason the left margin must be 1.5 inches) and will be added to the library collection. Once the printed copy of the thesis has been submitted to the library, no changes of any kind will be permitted.

SATISFACTORY ACADEMIC PROGRESS

The seminary faculty takes very seriously its responsibility for evaluating not only the academic progress of its students but also their personal qualities and behavior both within and outside the seminary community. Accordingly, at the end of each semester, the Faculty Council reviews the performance of all students registered for the semester and hears reports from the Academic Dean, Director of Formation, the Director of Field Education, and others in positions of authority or supervision.

Among other criteria for eligibility for continued enrollment, a student must maintain satisfactory academic progress. Satisfactory progress here means (a) that the student maintains a grade point average satisfactory for his or her program of study and (b) that the student's rate of progress will allow completion of his or her program of study within the normal length of time for that program unless special provisions for part-time study have been approved by the Faculty Council, as defined below.

Minimum Cumulative Grade Point Average

To receive the M.Div. or M.A. degree, a student must have a cumulative grade point average of at least 2.3 (C+); to receive the Th.M. or D.Min. degree, a student must have a cumulative grade point average of at least 3.0 (B). A student whose cumulative or semester grade point average falls below his or her degree program minimum, or who receives an F or WF in a given semester, ordinarily will be placed on academic probation.

Probation

A student whose cumulative or semester grade point average falls below his or her degree program minimum, or who receives an F or WF in a given semester, ordinarily will be placed on academic probation—and a notation will be entered on the student’s official transcript—for the following semester, though in exceptional circumstances simply a letter of warning from the Academic Dean may be issued. If the student fails to show appropriate improvement during the following semester, by bringing both the cumulative and the semester grade point average to the requisite minimum, the student may be dismissed from the seminary for lack of satisfactory academic progress. Even if not dismissed, such a student normally becomes ineligible for financial assistance and work-study grants from the seminary and for loans from U.S. Government and state loan programs. However, if that student subsequently raises his or her grade point average to the requisite minimum for his or her program, the student again becomes eligible for financial assistance and loan programs.

A student whose participation in the communal and liturgical life of the seminary is unsatisfactory ordinarily will be placed on disciplinary probation for the following semester, though in exceptional circumstances simply a letter of warning from the Director of Formation may be issued. If the student fails to show appropriate improvement during the following semester, the Director of Formation will ask the Academic Dean to convene a special meeting of the Faculty Council to review the student’s performance and determine further action, including possible dismissal from the seminary.

The Academic Dean and the Director of Formation have the responsibility of implementing whatever measures the Faculty Council might recommend or mandate in order to improve the performance of a student placed on probation, whether academic or disciplinary. These measures may include mandated counseling sessions, reduction of extracurricular activities and employment, special tutoring or remedial work, reduction of course work, or other provisions appropriate to the case at hand. The student remains under special supervision until the probation is lifted.

Progress Toward Completion of Degree Program

Full-Time Study. A full-time degree student in the M.Div., M.A., and Th.M. programs must register for at least 12 credits in course work per semester and successfully complete them; he or she may register for no more than 15 credits per semester without special permission from the Academic Dean. The normal duration of the Master of Divinity program (including course work and field education) when pursued on a full-time basis is three years (six semesters). Accordingly, a full-time M.Div. student normally must successfully complete at least 24 credits in course work by the end of the first year of studies and at least 48 credits in course work by the end of the second year. The normal duration of the Master of Arts program is two years (four semesters). Accordingly, a full-time M.A. student normally must successfully complete at least 24 credits in course work by the end of the first year of studies.

A full-time degree student in the D.Min. program must register for six credits in course work (or three credits in thesis) per term and successfully complete them. The normal duration of the Doctor of Ministry program is three and a half years (seven terms).

Half-Time Study. In order to be eligible for U.S. Government loan programs, a student must be enrolled as degree candidate for at least a half-time program of study. To be making satisfactory progress toward completion of the M.Div. degree on a half-time basis, a student must register for at least six credits in course work per semester and successfully complete them, thus finishing the entire program within six years (12 semesters). Analogous provisions apply for the other degree programs: M.A., at least six credits in course work, completing the entire program within four years; Th.M., at least six credits per semester, completing the entire program within two years.

Less Than Half-Time Study. A student who is enrolled in a degree program on a less than half-time basis is ineligible for seminary financial assistance and U.S. Government loan programs. To be making satisfactory progress toward completion of the M.Div. degree on a less than half-time basis, a student must register for at least three credits in course work per semester and successfully complete them, thus finishing the entire program within ten years. Analogous provisions apply for the other degree programs: M.A., at least three credits in course work per semester, completing the entire program within eight years; Th.M., at least three credits per semester, completing the entire program within four years.

Transcripts

Students and graduates may receive unofficial copies of their academic transcript or have official transcripts sent upon written request to the Office of Academic Dean. Official transcripts, bearing the seminary seal and the Registrar's signature, are not issued to individuals but are sent upon the student's request to other institutions or agencies as confidential information. All transcripts must include the entire academic record; no partial or incomplete statements of record will be issued as transcripts. Transcripts will not be issued until the student has met all outstanding financial obligations to the seminary.

Master of Divinity Degree

The Master of Divinity (HEGIS 2301) may be described in the most general terms as a graduate professional degree whose purpose is preparation for the ministries of the Church. At St Vladimir's the degree program is designed chiefly for qualified Orthodox students who wish to prepare themselves for ordination to priestly ministry in the Orthodox Church, though it also provides appropriate preparation for other forms of church service and for graduate study in theology and related disciplines.

The program is a residential program designed to be completed in three years by full-time students, who take an average of twelve credits in course work per semester. Only if warranted by exceptional circumstances, such as illness, disability, or employment, and with permission of the Faculty Council, may the program be spread over a longer period of time. The degree must be completed within six years of entrance into the program, after which time the student is normally required to fulfill any new requirements that may then be in force. All credits applied toward degree requirements must be earned within ten years of the awarding of the degree.

PROGRAM LEARNING OUTCOMES

St Vladimir's Seminary seeks to equip M.Div. students to:

- Read Scripture and the Church's tradition with discernment in order to teach, preach, and minister according to the gospel;
- Think theologically and pastorally about the world and about their cultural context in order to address contemporary realities in a manner faithful to the Church's tradition;
- Grow in faith, emotional maturity, and spiritual life in order to develop the capacities needed for pastoral leadership;
- Celebrate the offices of the Church with beauty and dignity in order to worship God rightly, forming a community in the faith and life of the Church; and
- Employ managerial skills and understand administrative procedures in order to lead a community in accordance with the commandments of Christ and the discipline of the Church, so that they might witness to the gospel of Jesus Christ.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

To enter the M.Div. program at St Vladimir's, a student must normally have the Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) degree or the Bachelor of Science (B.S.) degree from an accredited college or university.

The seminary does not prescribe a specific program of pre-theological studies, but it does encourage potential students to gain a broad liberal arts education while in college. Studies in the humanities and the natural and social sciences should prepare the student to think clearly, to speak and write correctly, and to understand not only the world of today but also the cultures of the past. Also useful are studies in languages, particularly in Greek. Potential students are also encouraged to read the Bible and sing in their parish choir, thus acquiring a basic knowledge of the language and chant tradition used in the ecclesiastical jurisdiction in which they wish to serve. Students are voiced-tested during orientation.

St Vladimir's is able on a very limited basis to admit to the M.Div. program applicants without a B.A., B.S., or its equivalent.

TRANSFER CREDIT AND ADVANCED STANDING

Credit for work completed at other accredited graduate institutions—up to twelve credits applied against electives—may be accepted at full value on a transfer basis (a) if work done parallels courses in the St Vladimir's M.Div. program and is otherwise compatible with the objectives of that program; (b) if the courses in which the credits were earned were eligible for graduate credit in the institution at which they were taken; (c) if the work was completed within five years of matriculation at St Vladimir's; and (d) if the grade earned for the eligible courses was 3.0 (B) or higher. Transfer course grades are not included, however, in seminary GPA calculations.

Undergraduate work, graduate-level work completed at unaccredited institutions, or graduate-level work for which transfer credit has been accepted may qualify a student for advanced standing in subjects in which he or she shows proficiency. In these cases, students will be permitted to enroll in advanced courses or complete advanced assignments while remaining enrolled in core courses.

Requests for acceptance of transfer credits or advanced standing should be directed to the Academic Dean, who in turn submits them to the Faculty Council for consideration and approval.

In order to provide proper and full formation for M.Div. students, and in accordance with program standards of the Association of Theological Schools, students are required to be in residence for three full academic years. Students who have been full-time residential students at another accredited Orthodox seminary for at least one year may complete the M.Div. program at St Vladimir's in two full academic years.

MUSIC PROFICIENCY EXAMINATION

Students entering the M.Div. program at St Vladimir's are required to take a music proficiency examination during the orientation period. The purpose of the examination is to assess the student's ability to match pitch, read music, and sing, and to determine the student's vocal range for placement in seminary choirs. On the basis of the examination, the Faculty Council may require a student to do remedial work.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

A minimum of 72 credits in course work, with a cumulative grade point average of at least 2.3 (C+) is required for the M.Div. degree. This course work includes:

- 15 credits in 100-level "foundational" theology courses: Biblical Languages 100, Church History 110, Liturgical Theology 102, New Testament 102, and Old Testament 100. These courses serve as introductions to the fields in question. They are designed to provide sufficient background for all higher-level courses.
- 12 credits in 100- and 200-level "skills" courses in Liturgics and Liturgical Music: Liturgical Skills 101, Liturgical Skills 210, Liturgical Skills 211, and Liturgical Skills 220.
- 30 credits in 200-level courses, which include higher-level courses in the academic areas mentioned above and courses relating to the practice of ministry: Applied Theology (Canon Law 203, Homiletics 204, Homiletics 205, Pastoral Theology 205, Pastoral Theology 208), Biblical Studies (New Testament 203), Historical Studies (Church History 200, Patristics 204), and Systematic Theology (Systematic Theology 201, Systematic Theology 202).
- 15 credits in 200-, 300- or 400-level elective courses.

JURISDICTIONAL REQUIREMENTS IN LANGUAGES AND MUSIC

Some of the ecclesiastical jurisdictions that the seminary serves may require their students to complete certain studies in languages and liturgical music not otherwise required for the M.Div. degree. In order to serve these jurisdictions more effectively, and in close cooperation with them, the seminary offers appropriate courses in these areas.

STUDENT PORTFOLIO

As part of its ongoing self-assessment, St Vladimir's Seminary requires M.Div. senior students to submit portfolios of their work. Compiled from student papers, sermons, and fieldwork evaluations, these serve as cross-sections of the seminarians' work and growth. Portfolios are reviewed by the Director of Institutional Assessment and evaluated by an external reviewer at a peer school. (External reviewers are unable to see student names.) In this way the seminary is helped to see how it is measuring up to the outcomes it has established for the M.Div. degree program.

ANCIENT LANGUAGE REQUIREMENT

Students are required to complete an introductory course or course sequence in one of the ancient languages offered by the seminary. Students fulfill the requirement by successfully completing one semester of New Testament Greek (Biblical Languages 100) or two semesters of Classical Armenian (Classical Armenian 203–204).

FIELD EDUCATION REQUIREMENT

M.Div. candidates must complete two field education units as part of the seminary's program in applied theology.

Hospital Ministry. For the first unit, normally completed in the summer after the junior year or during the middler year, students are assigned to hospital ministry, where they are required to complete an ACPE-accredited unit of Clinical Pastoral Education (CPE).

Parish Ministry. The second unit, completed during the senior year, is in the area of parish ministry. Students are placed in parishes in the greater New York area. This placement gives students invaluable exposure to and experience of the diversity existing in Orthodox parishes. In addition, it provides an opportunity for students to develop ministerial skills under the supervision of the pastor or another qualified professional. Under the supervision of the pastor of that parish, students will undertake specific tasks required by the seminary's Parish Ministry Project and assigned by the pastor/supervisor. An agreement describing these tasks is provided by the Parish Ministry Coordinator and signed by the pastor/supervisor and the student, and submitted to the Coordinator. At the end of the year, the pastor/supervisor submits an evaluation of the student's work to the Coordinator, using the appropriate form. Both the pastor/supervisor and the student are required to sign the evaluation form.

SENIOR ORAL EXAMINATION

In the spring semester of their final year, M.Div. students are examined orally by the members of the faculty and invited guests. The purpose of the examination is to assess a student's readiness to serve in a pastoral context. The examination typically includes preaching and answering general, coffee hour-type questions on liturgical, theological, pastoral, and spiritual matters. The examination is approximately one hour in length. Successful completion of the examination is required for graduation; students who do not perform satisfactorily will be given the opportunity to retake the exam.

THESIS OPTION

Candidates for the M.Div. degree with a cumulative grade point average of 3.0 (B) or higher have the option of preparing and submitting a thesis project—in lieu of elective credits—under the supervision of a member of the seminary faculty. Normally written in the form of an extended essay, the thesis must show the student’s ability to understand and express issues related to Orthodox theology, history, and/or contemporary witness.

The following thesis registrations are possible:

1. Thesis (TS 306 [3 credits]). M.Div. students are permitted to write a thesis of 25–35 pages in lieu of three elective credits in their senior year, normally in the fall semester. (Note: The thesis option does not replace the M.Div. Senior Oral Examination.) Prerequisites for writing a thesis are:

- Submission of an acceptable thesis proposal (as described above).

2. Honors Thesis (TS 310 [3 credits]). Invited M.Div. students may write an honors thesis of 40–50 pages. Prerequisites for writing an honors thesis are:

- Minimum cumulative GPA of 3.4 at time of registration;
- Submission of an acceptable thesis proposal (as described above); and

Important Note: Although honors thesis is not required to fulfill program requirements, it is required for graduation honors. However, an honors thesis receiving any grade lower than B from the thesis advisor will be treated as an independent study: 1) the student will not be eligible for academic honors; and 2) the thesis will not be bound and deposited in the library.

ORDINATION

The degree of Master of Divinity does not make a student automatically eligible for ordination in the Orthodox Church. In questions of ordination, the various Orthodox ecclesiastical jurisdictions are governed first of all by the universal canons of the Church. In addition, each jurisdiction may set further requirements that must be met by its candidates for holy orders. While the seminary faculty may recommend a seminary graduate for ordination, the final decision rests exclusively with the hierarchy of the Church.

GRADUATION

Degrees are awarded annually at the close of the spring semester. After a final review and vote of recommendation by the Faculty Council, the candidates’ names are submitted to the Board of Trustees for their approval.

Academic Honors. Academic honors are reserved for students who complete all academic requirements at a high level and submit an honors thesis. Upon recommendation of the Faculty Council and approval by the Board of Trustees, the following citations may be given at graduation:

- For a cumulative grade point average of at least 3.90, summa cum laude;
- For a cumulative grade point average of at least 3.80, magna cum laude;
- For a cumulative grade point average of at least 3.50, cum laude.

For the determination of honors, only courses taken at St Vladimir's are included in the calculation of the cumulative grade point average.

Commencement Speakers. Student commencement speakers are selected by the faculty council from among the graduating students of both the Master of Arts and Master of Divinity programs. The valedictorian, who delivers the valediction or parting words at commencement, is normally the student who has earned the highest grade point average, with consideration also being given to performance in all other aspects of seminary life. The salutatorian, who delivers the salutation or greeting at commencement, is normally the student who has earned the second-highest grade point average, with consideration also being given to performance in all other aspects of seminary life. Commencement speakers must have completed at least 48 credits at St Vladimir's Seminary as full-time degree candidates. Neither the valedictorian nor the salutatorian is required to write a thesis.

Commendation for Service to the Community. Upon recommendation of the Director of Formation and approval of the Faculty Council, a student may receive commendation for service to the community.

Commendation for Thesis. Upon recommendation of the candidate's thesis readers and approval of the Faculty Council, the student may receive commendation for thesis.

Requirement to Satisfy Financial Obligations. No degree will be awarded or final transcript issued unless all financial obligations to the seminary, library, and bookstore have been satisfied. In the case of outstanding loans or other obligations not then due and payable, appropriate agreements must have been drawn up and all payments must be current.

September Graduation. Students who are eligible to graduate in September will be permitted to walk at the preceding spring semester commencement as long as the following conditions are met:

- no more than 6 credits—for which the student is already registered in the spring semester—in course work, field work, or thesis (except continuation registration) are incomplete; and
- all unfinished work is expected to be completed by June 15. Students who fail to complete all work by the June 15 deadline will register for continuation in the fall semester and, if all program requirements are completed by the fall semester deadline, graduate in December

September graduates who walk at commencement in the spring semester will be listed in the Commencement Program (with thesis title but without honors indicated), wear cap and gown, and receive an empty folder (instead of a folder with diploma). Honors, if earned, will be indicated on the official transcript when all work is completed.

Master of Arts Degree

The Master of Arts program in general theological studies (HEGIS 2301) is intended for those wishing to explore the major academic areas within the theological curriculum without the professional preparation demanded of M.Div. candidates. It can provide appropriate preparation for further graduate study in theology or simply a framework for lay theological study on a disciplined basis. It does not provide the educational qualifications needed for priestly ordination. Students considering ordination therefore are directed to the M.Div. program.

The program is a residential program designed to be completed in two years by full-time students, who take an average of 12 credits in course work per semester. The program may, however, be spread over a longer period of time by non-residential students working on a part-time basis. The degree must be completed within four years of entrance into the program, after which time the student is normally required to fulfill any new requirements that may then be in force. All credits applied toward degree requirements must be earned within 10 years of the awarding of the degree.

Students who are admitted with advanced theological study, normally an earned graduate theological degree, may complete the program in one year of course work, in addition to the thesis.

PROGRAM LEARNING OUTCOMES

St Vladimir's Seminary seeks to equip M.A. students to:

- Read Scripture and the Church's tradition with discernment;
- Think theologically and pastorally about the world and their cultural context, addressing contemporary realities in a manner faithful to the Church's tradition; and
- Research and write at a scholarly level, in order to grow in faith and spiritual understanding, witnessing the gospel of Jesus Christ.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

A student entering the M.A. program normally must have the Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) degree or the Bachelor of Science (B.S.) degree from an accredited college or university.

The seminary does not prescribe a specific program of pre-theological studies, but it does encourage potential students to gain a broad liberal arts education while in college. Studies in the humanities and the natural and social sciences should prepare the student to think clearly, to speak and write correctly, and to understand not only the world of today but also the cultures of the past. Also useful are studies in languages, particularly in Greek. Potential students are also encouraged to read the Bible and sing in their parish choir, thus acquiring a basic knowledge of the language and chant tradition used in the ecclesiastical jurisdiction in which they wish to serve. Students are voiced-tested during orientation.

TRANSFER CREDIT AND ADVANCED STANDING

Credit for work completed at other accredited graduate institutions—up to twelve credits applied against electives—may be accepted at full value on a transfer basis (a) if work done parallels courses in the St Vladimir’s M.A. program and is otherwise compatible with the objectives of that program; (b) if the courses in which the credits were earned were eligible for graduate credit in the institution at which they were taken; (c) if the work was completed within five years of matriculation at St Vladimir’s; and (d) if the grade earned for the eligible courses was 3.0 (B) or higher. Transfer course grades are not included, however, in seminary GPA calculations.

Undergraduate work, graduate-level work completed at unaccredited institutions, or graduate-level work for which transfer credit has been accepted may qualify a student for advanced standing in subjects in which he or she shows proficiency. In these cases, students will be permitted to enroll in advanced courses or complete advanced assignments while remaining enrolled in core courses.

Requests for acceptance of transfer credits or advanced standing should be directed to the Academic Dean, who in turn submits them to the Faculty Council for consideration and approval.

In order to provide proper and full education of M.A. students, and in accordance with program standards of the Association of Theological Schools, students are required to be in residence for two full academic years.

MUSIC PROFICIENCY EXAMINATION

Students entering the M.A. program at St Vladimir’s are required to take a music proficiency examination during the orientation period. The purpose of the examination is to assess the student’s ability to match pitch, read music, and sing, and to determine the student’s vocal range for placement in seminary choirs. On the basis of the examinations, the Faculty Council may require an M.A. student to do remedial work.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

A minimum of 48 credits in course work and thesis, with a cumulative grade point average of at least 2.3 (C+), is required for the M.A. degree. This includes:

- 15 credits in 100-level foundational theology courses: Biblical Languages 100, Church History 110, Liturgical Theology 102, New Testament 102, and Old Testament 100. These courses serve as introductions to the fields in question. They are designed to provide sufficient background for all higher-level courses.
- 15 credits in 200-level advanced theology courses: Church History 200, New Testament 203, Patristics 204, Systematic Theology 201, and Systematic Theology 202.
- 3 credits in Liturgical Skills 101.
- 3 credits in thesis (TS 306 or TS 310).
- 12 credits in 200-, 300-, or 400-level elective courses.

Master of Theology Degree

The Master of Theology program (HEGIS 2301) seeks to encourage scholarly research and reflection in Orthodox theology. It is intended for qualified Orthodox students from the U.S. or abroad who wish to prepare for higher-level studies, teaching, and research, and for qualified non-Orthodox students who wish to specialize in Orthodox studies.

The program is a residential program designed to be completed in one year by full-time students, who take an average of twelve credits per semester. The program may, however, be spread over a longer period of time by non-residential students working on a part-time basis. The degree must be completed within two years of entrance into the program, after which time the student is normally required to fulfill any new requirements that may then be in force. All credits applied toward degree requirements must be earned within ten years of the awarding of the degree.

PROGRAM LEARNING OUTCOMES

St Vladimir's Seminary seeks to equip Th.M. students to:

- Engage in advanced theological reflection and dialogue;
- Research and write theology at a scholarly level suitable for peer-reviewed publications; and
- Pursue a terminal academic degree, so that they may develop their academic talents to the highest degree possible in witness to the gospel of Jesus Christ.

RESIDENTIAL STUDENTS

The fullness of the experience of an Orthodox degree, while available to all Th.M. students, is more easily accessible to residential Th.M. students, who are expected to attend at least one chapel service per day. They may of their own choosing become a member of one or more of the chapel choirs, in which case they are expected to attend rehearsals and services as scheduled.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Admission to the program requires the Master of Divinity or first graduate theological degree providing equivalent theological background, evidence of aptitude for advanced theological study, and a cumulative grade point average of at least 3.0 (B) or its equivalent. The applicant's academic preparation should approximate that provided by the M.Div. program at St Vladimir's. Thus, it should include course work in Patristics, Church History both Eastern and Western, historical theology, and liturgy, as well as in biblical studies and systematic theology. It should also include the study of Greek and of any languages required for the thesis, as determined by the student's thesis supervisor. Applicants whose academic preparation falls short of program prerequisites but who are otherwise qualified may be offered admission to the Master of Arts program with up to one year advanced standing, enabling them to complete the M.A. in one year, before reapplying to the Master of Theology program.

Admission to the program also requires submission and acceptance of a thesis proposal of 4–5 pages. In the proposal, students are expected to outline the problem to be investigated and give a sense of what they expect to find. The proposal must also include a working title and a bibliography, which is not intended to be exhaustive but must show that the student is familiar with the main works in the field, in particular those that will be of value to the project.

LANGUAGE REQUIREMENT

Coursework at the Th.M. level requires a working knowledge of ancient Greek. Therefore students must demonstrate this knowledge by passing a Greek language examination prior to matriculation. Students who fail the examination will be required to complete a remedial Greek language course, as assigned by the Director of the Th.M. program. In addition, Th.M. students are expected to be proficient in any language required for their chosen thesis topic. Language proficiency requirements will be formally agreed upon between the applicant and his or her thesis supervisor as a condition of admission.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Courses taken in the Th.M. program are intended to broaden and deepen the candidate's knowledge of the major areas of theology. A minimum of 18 credits in advanced course work, with a cumulative grade point average of at least 3.0 (B), is required for the degree. These are distributed between appropriate lecture courses and seminars at the "400-level."

All 18 credits in advanced course work must be completed at St Vladimir's. Of these 18 credits, at least 12 must be completed in specially designated Master of Theology seminars.

Master of Theology seminars—in selected fields of Orthodox studies, generally History, Patristics, and Systematic Theology—serve as the core curriculum of the Th.M. program. The seminars, which are rotated on an annual basis, are also open to qualified M.A. and M.Div. students (i.e., those with second- or third-year standing and a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.5), as long as these courses do not conflict with their program requirements. M.A. and M.Div.

students must also meet the normal prerequisites for the course in which they seek to enroll and receive permission of the Academic Dean. Instruction, activities, and assignments are set to the competence and needs of Th.M. students. Auditors are not permitted.

THESIS REQUIREMENT

The thesis, written under the supervision of the student's program advisor, must be based upon personal research and constitute an original scholarly contribution. The thesis is expected to be 60–100 pages in length. In other respects it should follow the guidelines given in the M.A. thesis style sheet, which is available online.

Thesis Submission and Defense. After the advisor has accepted the final version of the thesis, an electronic copy of the thesis (as PDF file) must be submitted to the Office of Academic Dean by the deadline indicated in the Academic Calendar. The thesis is then evaluated by two readers: the first reader is the student's thesis advisor, who is a full-time or part-time member of the faculty, and the second is appointed by the Academic Dean from among the other faculty of the seminary. The thesis will then be discussed and defended at a special meeting of the faculty, to which competent scholars from other institutions may be invited. These scholars will take part in the final faculty vote to recommend the candidate for the degree.

Students who do not complete their thesis by the thesis submission deadline, which is posted on the academic calendar, must register for continuation (CTN) and pay the continuation fee in the following semester(s) in order to remain degree candidates. Failure to register for continuation and pay the fee will cause the student to be administratively withdrawn from the degree program. In the event that the student is unable to complete the thesis even with continuation registration(s), the permanent grade W (Withdrawal) will be entered on the student's transcript.

Library Copy. Additionally, the thesis in its approved form—and on white, acid-free bond paper—is to be deposited with the librarian no later than one week after the thesis submission deadline. (Students who do not submit the library copy of the thesis by the deadline will be charged a $100 fee for the library to print the thesis.) This copy of the thesis will be bound (for which reason the left margin must be 1.5 inches), and will be added to the library collection. Once the printed copy of the thesis has been submitted to the library, no changes of any kind will be permitted.

GRADUATION

Degrees are awarded annually at the close of the spring semester. After a final review and vote of recommendation by the Faculty Council, the candidates' names are submitted to the Board of Trustees for their approval.

Academic Honors. Upon unanimous recommendation of the candidate's thesis readers and approval of the Faculty Council, he or she may receive commendation for the thesis.

Requirement to Satisfy Financial Obligations. No degree will be awarded or final transcript issued unless all financial obligations to the seminary, library, and bookstore have been satisfied. In the case of outstanding loans or other obligations not then due and payable, appropriate agreements must have been drawn up and all payments must be current.

September Graduation. Students who are eligible to graduate in September will be permitted to walk at the preceding spring semester commencement as long as the following conditions are met:

- no more than 3 credits—for which the student is already registered in the spring semester—in course work, field work, or thesis (except continuation registration) are incomplete; and
- all unfinished work is expected to be completed by June 15. Students who fail to complete all work by the June 15 deadline will register for continuation in the fall semester and, if all program requirements are completed by the fall semester deadline, graduate in December

September graduates who walk at commencement in the spring semester will be listed in the Commencement Program (with thesis title but without honors indicated), wear cap and gown, and receive an empty folder (instead of a folder with diploma). Honors, if earned, will be indicated on the official transcript when all work is completed.

Doctor of Ministry Degree

The Doctor of Ministry program (HEGIS 2301) at St Vladimir's enhances the practice of ministry for ordained and lay ministers in the Orthodox Church. The program integrates enhanced competencies in pastoral analysis with skills necessary to lead students to an advanced understanding of the nature and purposes of ministry. Working in communities of teachers and learners, the students gain deeper knowledge about the practice of serving others in Christian love as they grow in spiritual maturity as ministers of the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

While directed especially to ordained clergy engaged in pastoral ministry in the parish, the program is also open to clergy and laypersons professionally engaged in other forms of ministry (e.g., counseling). Although distinctly Orthodox in its setting and perspective, the program is also open to non-Orthodox applicants who meet prerequisites and wish to study in such a context.

PROGRAM LEARNING OUTCOMES

Graduates of the program will be able to:

- Demonstrate an advanced competency in the practice of ministry in the Orthodox tradition;
- Perform analytical and ministerial research in Bible, Patristic texts, and contemporary sources;
- Integrate advanced theological knowledge into one's ministry in the local context; and
- Communicate the Gospel of Jesus Christ more effectively through oral, written, and other media.

COHORT MODEL

Students take six credits per term while progressing through the program as members of a cohort, an arrangement designed to foster and strengthen collegiality and cooperation in Christian ministry. Should a student be required to withdraw from a course, he or she would have to wait until that course is offered in a subsequent cohort.

PROGRAM DURATION

Designed to be completed in three and a half years by full-time students, the degree must be completed within six years of entrance into the program, after which time the student is normally required to fulfill any new requirements that may then be in force. All credits applied toward degree requirements must be earned within 10 years of the awarding of the degree.

HYBRID (DISTANCE-RESIDENTIAL) LEARNING

The program consists of eight courses offered two at a time in thirteen-week hybrid terms, comprising of distance learning and one week of onsite intensive instruction, and an online project-writing seminar. The program culminates in a final project. Onsite intensives comprise fifty-one percent of the contact hours of each course; therefore, successful participation in the intensives is a mandatory requirement for course completion. Students who do not complete the mandatory onsite intensive will be withdrawn from the courses for that term and will have to wait until the courses are offered the next time. In order to better accommodate the liturgical cycle of the Church and the attendant responsibilities of parish priests, program terms are scheduled in the fall and summer.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Applicants to the program must hold the Master of Divinity degree—at least 72 credits of broad-based work in theology, biblical studies, and the arts of ministry, which include the supervised practice of ministry—with a cumulative grade point average of at least 3.0 (B), show evidence of aptitude for advanced theological study, have at least three years of experience in a stable, identifiable ministry subsequent to the M.Div., and currently be serving in a position of ministry.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Courses taken in the D.Min. program are intended to broaden and deepen the candidate's knowledge of the major areas of theology and ministry. Students are required to complete eight core courses with a cumulative grade point average of at least 3.0 (B).

The eight core courses and a writing seminar must be completed at St Vladimir's Seminary and normally include the following:

- Patristics 510 From Adam to Christ: Male and Female to Being Human
- Ethics 530 Bioethics for Ministry
- Homiletics 532 Advanced Preaching and Communications
- Liturgical Theology 539 Liturgical Life and Pastoral Ministry
- Pastoral Theology 520 Ministry to the Sick and Dying

- Pastoral Theology 533 Counseling in the Parish
- Pastoral Theology 568 Ministry in a Secular Age
- Pastoral Theology 570 Missiology
- Theological Writing 500 Final Project Research, Analysis, and Writing

PROJECT REQUIREMENT

The Doctor of Ministry project, written under the supervision of the student's project advisor, must be based upon personal research and constitute an original scholarly contribution with practical, pastoral application. The project is expected to be 60–100 pages in length. In other respects it should follow the guidelines given in the M.A. thesis style sheet and the D.Min. Project Handbook, which are available online.

Project Submission and Defense. During the final onsite intensive, students will make a presentation of their work to the faculty and members of the cohort; their feedback will be incorporated into the final version of the project. After the advisor has accepted the final version of the project, an electronic copy (as PDF file) must be submitted to the Office of Academic Dean by the deadline indicated in the Academic Calendar. The project is then evaluated by two readers: the first reader is the student's project advisor, who is a full-time or part-time member of the faculty, and the second is appointed by the Academic Dean from among the other D.Min. faculty. The project will then be discussed and defended at a special meeting of the faculty, to which competent scholars from other institutions may be invited. These scholars will take part in the final faculty vote to recommend the candidate for the degree.

Students who do not complete their project by the project submission deadline, which is posted on the academic calendar, must register for continuation (CTN) and pay the continuation fee in the following term(s) in order to remain degree candidates. Failure to register for continuation and pay the fee will cause the student to be administratively withdrawn from the degree program. In the event that the student is unable to complete the project even with continuation registration(s), the permanent grade W (Withdrawal) will be entered on the student's transcript.

Library Copy. Additionally, the D.Min. project in its approved form—and on white, acid-free bond paper—is to be deposited with the librarian prior to graduation. (Students may elect to have the Seminary print the D.Min. project for a $100 fee.) This copy will be bound (for which reason the left margin must be 1.5 inches), and will be added to the library collection. Once the printed copy has been submitted to the library, no changes of any kind will be permitted.

GRADUATION

D.Min. degrees are awarded annually in December. After a final review and vote of recommendation by the Faculty Council, the candidates' names are submitted to the Board of Trustees for their approval.

Academic Honors. Upon unanimous recommendation of the candidate's project readers and approval of the Faculty Council, he or she may receive commendation for the project.

Requirement to Satisfy Financial Obligations. No degree will be awarded or final transcript issued unless all financial obligations to the seminary, library, and bookstore have been satisfied. In the case of outstanding loans or other obligations not then due and payable, appropriate agreements must have been drawn up and all payments must be current.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF COURSES

Explanation of Course Numbers

Entry-Level Core Courses. Courses numbered 100–199 are entry-level courses normally required for all students in the Master of Divinity (M.Div.) and Master of Arts (M.A.) programs. They are intended to provide necessary and sufficient background for most upper-level courses (200- and 300-) in the same area. Upper-level courses in other areas may also presuppose familiarity with the material covered in these courses; therefore, M.Div. and M.A. candidates normally take these courses during their first year of study at the seminary. Three-credit, entry-level courses require 150 minutes of instruction and six hours of homework per week for fifteen weeks, including a final exam or other suitable summative exercise. Entry-level courses are given annually.

Upper-Level Core Courses. Courses numbered 200–299 are upper-level academic courses normally required of all students in the M.Div. program and/or the M.A. program. Most, though not all, of these courses have 100-level prerequisites or require second-year standing. Three-credit, upper-level core courses require 150 minutes of instruction and six hours of homework per week for fifteen weeks, including a final exam or other suitable summative exercise. Upper-level core courses are given annually.

Electives. Courses numbered 300–399 are elective courses open to students in the M.Div. and M.A. programs. Many of these courses have one or more 100-level prerequisites. Three-credit elective courses require 150 minutes of instruction and six hours of homework per week for fifteen weeks, including a suitable summative exercise. Most electives are rotated on a two- or three-year cycle in order to increase the number of offerings available during a student's time at St Vladimir's. Normally elective courses will not be given for fewer than five students unless they are needed to fulfill program requirements.

Double-Number Courses. A double number—e.g., NT 301 (401)—indicates that the course in question is given at two levels, with instruction, activities, and assignments appropriately adjusted to fit the competence and needs of students of different programs or levels of preparation. In most cases, students taking the course at the higher level are expected to do substantially more work, such as preparing a major research paper or independent project. Normally, such students also meet more frequently with the course instructor, whether as a group or individually.

Master of Theology Courses. Courses numbered 400–499 are intended for students in the Master of Theology (Th.M.) program. Th.M. courses require 150 minutes of instruction and six to eight hours of homework per week for fifteen weeks, including a suitable summative exercise, typically a major research paper. Qualified students in other seminary degree programs or students from other institutions may also be admitted. Auditors are not permitted in Th.M. seminars.

Hybrid Courses. Hybrid courses numbered 500–599, comprised of online learning and a seminar-style onsite intensive, are designed for students in the Doctor of Ministry (D.Min.) program. Hybrid courses numbered 300–399 are available to students in the M.Div. and/or M.A. programs, including a limited number of courses (numbered 400–499) open to Th.M. students. During the first eight weeks of a hybrid course, students complete weekly assignments, working with the course instructor through recorded lectures and threaded discussions in eCampus. The instructor is available for "virtual office hours" via Skype and phone calls. In the ninth week of the course, students prepare for an onsite intensive session during the following week, when the instructor joins the students on campus for seminar-style presentations. After the intensive, students complete the course online and conclude the hybrid term with a summative paper or project. Auditors are not permitted in hybrid courses.

HOMILETICS 204

Credits: 3 credits

THE REV. DR J. SERGIUS HALVORSEN

Introduction to Homiletics: From Scripture to Spoken Word. This introduction to preaching provides students with a clear theology and process to guide them in crafting an Orthodox Christian liturgical homily that is firmly rooted in Scripture and offers the hearers a concrete message of good news in Jesus Christ. Beginning with critical and prayerful reflection on the lectionary texts, this course explores methods of exegesis for preaching that are integrated with Patristic and modern rhetorical techniques. Integrating homiletical theory in-class work with liturgical preaching in the seminary chapel, students learn to incorporate critical feedback into their preaching ministry as they craft homilies that are relevant and meaningful to contemporary hearers. Prerequisite: Second-year standing in the Master of Divinity program.

HOMILETICS 205

Credits: 3 credits

THE REV. DR J. SERGIUS HALVORSEN

Advanced Topics in Homiletics: Challenging Contexts and Special Occasions. This course provides students with advanced homiletical and rhetorical techniques related to focus, function and form. Continuing to integrate in-class work with liturgical preaching in the chapel and in the parish, students refine their process of crafting and delivering liturgical homilies. Particular emphasis is placed on the unique demands of particular liturgical contexts, such as baptisms, weddings, and funerals, and the pastoral challenges that can arise in those situations.

Prerequisite: Homiletics 204.

PASTORAL THEOLOGY 205

Credits: 3 credits

THE VERY REV. DR NICHOLAS SOLAK

Introduction to Pastoral Theology: Ministry and Leadership. The purpose of this course is to further growth in the understanding and practice of what it means to serve in the name of Jesus Christ, with special emphasis on ordained ministry in the Orthodox Church in North America today. Although the primary focus of the course will be on ordained ministry, explicit connections to non-ordained ministry are made as well. The main topics include fundamentals of pastoral ministry, the person of the priest/pastor, spiritual direction and the Sacrament of Confession, pastoral counseling and referrals, along with specific issues of pastoral care: gender and sexuality, marriage and family, youth and young adults, sickness and suffering, addiction and recovery, seniors and the elderly, grief and loss, death and dying, disasters and relief, and social justice. Prerequisite: Second-year standing in the Master of Divinity program.

PASTORAL THEOLOGY 208

Credits: 3 credits

THE VERY REV. DR CHAD HATFIELD

Parish Administration. This course introduces students to administration—in parish and specialized professional settings—as integral to Christ’s saving work through an examination of the following topics: church polity; leadership and ministry; vision, planning and decision-making; finances and material assets; communications; and clergy assignment, protocol, and compensation. Students take an active role in applying basic principles to governance, leadership development, supervising staff, working with the parish council, conducting meetings, developing stewardship, managing buildings and grounds, preparing and interpreting budgets and financial statements, organizing capital campaigns, and supervising special funds. Course methodology includes time for silence and prayer, lecture, discussion, along with research and reflection on actual parish life. Prerequisite: Second-year standing in the Master of Divinity program.

PASTORAL THEOLOGY 319

Credits: 3 credits

REV. DR PHILIP LEMASTERS

Ministry in a Multi-Faith Context. How do we minister with and to people who are not Orthodox? Many clergy, chaplains, counselors, educators, and youth workers serve today in settings shaped by religious diversity and perhaps even hostility toward religion. Interfaith dialogue and cooperation are givens in contemporary culture that clergy and lay ministers may not ignore, if they wish to serve faithfully and effectively. Priests and catechists teach inquirers from many different faith backgrounds, while parishioners increasingly incorporate insights from other religions into their worldviews. This course provides students an introduction to the dynamics of practical engagement with adherents of other Christian confessions and of other world religions. It also exposes students to the status of chaplaincy in our religiously diverse society. Students preparing for any form of ministry will benefit from thinking through these challenging issues. Limited enrollment. Prerequisite: Second-year standing in the M.Div. program and permission of Academic Dean.

PASTORAL THEOLOGY 320 (520)

Credits: 3 (3) credits

DR DANIEL B. HINSHAW AND DR JANE CARNAHAN HINSHAW

Ministry to the Sick and Dying. The Christian understanding regarding sin, suffering, and death revolutionized the care of the sick. Secularization has made it increasingly difficult for Christians to navigate a health care system that is often dismissive of traditional Christianity. The goal of this course is to help clergy and lay professionals work more effectively within the secular health care system. With Orthodox Christian anthropology as a foundation, the physical, psychosocial and spiritual aspects of suffering in the context of serious life-threatening illness and the phenomena of grief and bereavement will be explored. Theoretical knowledge will be applied in a practical and highly interactive case-based format during the onsite intensive week. The remainder of the online course will focus on spiritual care of the seriously ill and dying. Limited enrollment. Prerequisite: Second-year standing in the M.Div. program and permission of the Academic Dean.

PASTORAL THEOLOGY 378

Credits: 3 credits

THE VERY REV. DR ERIC TOSI

Evangelization in the Parish. The course will introduce the student to the Orthodox theory of evangelization, the history of Orthodox evangelization in North America and the practical application of those principles. The course will also examine techniques and programs that have been successful in Orthodox parishes in North America. They will take a critical look at parishes that have not successfully integrated an evangelization program. Prerequisite: None.

PASTORAL THEOLOGY 385

Credits: 3 credits

The Gospels and Acts of the Apostles. This course is an introduction to the canonical Gospels and the Book of Acts, with special attention to the Gospel of Mark as a model for reading the other Gospels. The specific goals of the course are for students to understand the literary design of these books, to discern each book's distinctive witness to the teaching of Jesus Christ, to examine selected lectionary texts in their socio-historical, literary, and liturgical contexts, and to appreciate the use of critical as well as pre-critical methods of interpretation for establishing the meaning of the text. While the primary purpose of the course is for students to read these books carefully, it is also expected that their careful reading would in turn inform their faith. Prerequisite: Second-year standing in the Master of Divinity or Master of Arts program.

NEW TESTAMENT 301 (401)

Credits: 3 (3) credits

THE REV. DR GEORGE PARSENIOS

NEW TESTAMENT 318

Credits: 3 (3) credits

THE REV. DR GEORGE PARSENIOS

The Spiritual Gospel and the Divine Apostle: The Theology of John and Paul in Conversation.

The Gospel of John and the Letters of Paul present compelling and elaborate theological visions. They also share several major points of overlap that invite comparison. This course will put John and Paul into conversation on such issues as eschatology; the purpose and function of the Law of Israel; the preexistence of Christ; the Johannine emphasis on “abiding” in Christ and the Pauline emphasis on the life “in Christ”; the work of the Spirit; the relationship between the Spirit and Jesus; the titles of Jesus, especially “Son of God”; the use of Scripture; and many others.

Prerequisite for M.Div. and M.A. students: Second-year standing, one year of Biblical or Classical Greek, minimum cumulative GPA of 3.5, and permission of the Academic Dean.

OLD TESTAMENT 100

Historical Studies

CHURCH HISTORY 110

Credits: 3 credits

DR. IONUȚ-ALEXANDRU TUDORIE

History of the Church until the Fall of Byzantium. This course serves as an introduction to the history of the Orthodox Church beginning with the nascent Church, first Christian communities, persecutions against Christians, Ecumenical Councils, Byzantine missions among the Slavs, the Great Schism (1054), East-West theological dialogues during the Late Byzantium, culminating finally with the Fall of the Second Rome (1453). Key events, texts, and personalities will be examined in detail. Students will also be introduced to the issues and methodology involved in studying Church History, and to the scholarly bibliography. Prerequisite: None.

CHURCH HISTORY 200

Credits: 3 credits

DR. IONUȚ-ALEXANDRU TUDORIE

The Orthodox Churches in the Modern World. Since 1204 (or 1453) the tensions, and the opportunities, of the ambiguous relationship between the Orthodox church(es) and the “great world” have become especially vivid as the Orthodox peoples struggled to define their identity, negotiating their place and defining their pastoral mission within rapidly changing circumstances in the world. This course will ask what notions of “church” have emerged and what social, pastoral, and soteriological insights this history has generated, considering such topics as church-state relationships, education and theologizing, missions, cultural pluralism, monasticism, ethno-cultural nationalism, relations with “the West,” church governance, inter-Orthodox relations, the “diaspora” concept, ecumenism. Special attention to the historical development of Orthodoxy in North America. The course will raise the methodological question of the function and value of studying church history when seeking a theological understanding of the meaning of “church.”

Prerequisite: Church History 110.

CHURCH HISTORY 420

Credits: 3 (3) credits

DR. IONUȚ-ALEXANDRU TUDORIE

Confessing the Orthodox Faith (15th-18th centuries). A seminar course focused on a close reading of the most authoritative texts produced after the Fall of Constantinople (May 29, 1453) and during the long process of building confessional identity of the Eastern Orthodox Church (16th-17th centuries), including: “The Confession of Faith of Gennadios II” (1455/1456), “The Replies of Jeremias II to the Ausburg Confession” (1576/1579/1581), “The Confession of Faith of Metrophanes Kritopoulos” (1625), “The Minutes of the Synod in Constantinople” (1638) in response to “The Eastern Confession of the Christian Faith” by Kyrillos Loukaris (1629/1633), “The Orthodox Confession of the Catholic and Apostolic Eastern Church” by Peter Mohila (1638/1642), “The Confession of Dositheos II” (1672), and “The Theological Dialogue between the Nonjuror Anglicans and the Eastern Church” (1716-1725). The scrutiny into this long process of confession-building of the Orthodox Church would reveal the obvious shift from the Byzantine-Latin polemical discourse to the “symbolic books” that explored new ways of “answering the questions that were never asked before.” Prerequisite for M.Div. and M.A. students: Second-year standing, minimum cumulative GPA of 3.5, and permission of the Academic Dean.

CHURCH HISTORY 344 (444)

The first half of the course explores the transition from a Syriac to an Arabic language and cultural experience and its consequences; the relationship of the Patriarchate to other Orthodox (Chalcedonian and Miaphysite) and issues with the dominant Islamic populations of the Middle East as well as Maronite, Catholic, and Protestant groups. The second half of the semester explores the history of the Archdiocese from the arrival of scattered immigrant communities, the foundational role of St Raphael Hawaweeny, the fracturing of the Antiochians, to the unification of the Archdiocese under Metropolitan Philip Saliba and the question of a pan-Orthodox Church in the United States and the “diaspora” issue.
Prerequisite: Church History 110.

LITURGICAL ARTS 310

Credits: 3 credits

DR. ROSSITZA B. SCHROEDER

Theology and Visual Arts in the Orthodox Church. This is a three-credit hybrid course which explores the intersection between theology and the visual arts in the Orthodox Church. Students will learn the history of the visual arts in the Orthodox Christian Church (e.g., painted wood panels, mosaics, frescos, vestments, sculptures) from their pre-Christian roots through the theological formative period of Iconoclasm into modern times. Not only were the visual arts formed by theological ideas and controversies, but they also played (and continue to play) a major role in communicating the Orthodox Christian faith and forming believers; indeed, just like texts, art and architecture are a reliable source for theology. Prerequisite: None.

Credits: 3 credits

THE VERY REV. DR JOHN BEHR

Themes in Patristic Literature. This course will look at selected themes treated by various Fathers of the Church (such as Anthropology; Sin, Passion, and Death; Monasticism; Mysticism) and further study of particular Fathers and Early Christian thinkers (such as Augustine, Dionysius, St Maximus). Prerequisite: Church History 110 and Old Testament 100.

PATRISTICS 510

Credits: 3 credits

THE VERY REV. DR JOHN BEHR

From Adam to Christ: Male and Female to Being Human. In this class we will focus on the overarching biblical account from Adam to Christ, through close reading of the scriptural texts and patristic interpretations of them, exploring various anthropological questions, in particular the nature of embodiment, the relationship between life and death, and the place or role of sexuality in the arc that leads from those made male and female ‘in the image’ to ‘the image’ Christ himself, in whom there is neither male nor female. Besides Scripture, we will look especially at texts from Irenaeus, Gregory of Nyssa, and Maximus the Confessor, in addition to an assortment of modern scholarship.

LITURGICAL MUSIC 374

Credits: 3 credits

MR. HARRISON RUSSIN

Composing and Arranging Music in the Orthodox Tradition. Fr Sergei Glagolev wrote, “what must be iconically recognizable in liturgical music, it seems to me, is both the sense of continuity and familiarity. This does not mean there is no room for creative composition.” Taking Glagolev’s statement as our directive, this course will explore the creative space between continuity and creativity through an analysis of three aspects of liturgical music. The ultimate aspect is the composition and arrangement of music for Orthodox liturgical services; helping to buttress that goal is, on the one hand, an examination of the history of these liturgical services and texts and, on the other hand, musical analysis of the inherited tradition of Orthodox music (primarily, but not limited to, the Slavic and Byzantine traditions). Limited enrollment. Prerequisite: Permission of instructor.

LITURGICAL MUSIC 380

Credits: 3 credits

MRS ROBIN FREEMAN

Applied Voice. There is no substitute for technique when it comes to singing. This course combines group instruction with private lessons in classical Western technique. Students will grow in their musicianship and singing ability by working one-on-one with the instructor in weekly private voice lessons. Weekly studio classes will address problems of diction, pedagogy, and vocal technique in a supportive peer learning environment. Attending performances and singing for others at set points in the semester will enable students to develop the ability to identify qualities of healthy vocal production and to self-assess their own singing. Limited enrollment. Prerequisite: Permission of instructor.

Previous experience with musical performance, including the ability to read notated music, is not required. Prerequisite: None.

LITURGICAL THEOLOGY 102

Credits: 3 credits

DR. VITALY PERMIAKOV

The Liturgy of Initiation. The aim of this course is twofold. The goal of the introductory section of the course is to introduce students to the study of liturgy by showing the centrality of liturgy to the life of the church. This is both functional (liturgy is what we do!) and theological (we are realized as the church when we gather for liturgy!). The second part of this course will introduce students to the origin, development, and theology of the sacraments of initiation: baptism, chrismation, and the Eucharist. In each case we shall begin with the biblical evidence, then trace the origin and development of liturgy through the post-apostolic era, the patristic age, and down to the present. Prerequisite: None.

LITURGICAL THEOLOGY 343 (443)

Credits: 3 (3) credits

DR GRANT WHITE

Liturgy and Scripture. This course will introduce course participants to fundamental historical, theological, and pastoral dimensions of the relationship between scripture and Orthodox Christian liturgical practice. Some of the topics the course will discuss include: functions of scripture in liturgical texts and practices; canon, ecclesiology, and liturgical development; schools of biblical interpretation in early Christianity and their effects on the development of Christian liturgical traditions; the application of methods of scripture interpretation to interpretation of the Divine Liturgy and the formation of mystagogical traditions; the possible relationships between scripture and Christian formation in Orthodox Christian parish life today. Limited enrollment. Prerequisite for M.Div. and M.A. students: Second-year standing and permission of the Academic Dean.

LITURGICAL THEOLOGY 360 (460)

This course will discuss the development of Orthodox liturgical theology in the twentieth century and the reception in the past quarter-century of the thought of a range of proponents of Orthodox liturgical theology as well as theologians in other traditions, including (but not limited to): Alexander Schmemmann, John Meyendorff, Paul Meyendorff, Paulos Mar Gregorios, Robert Taft, Dennis Fagerberg,

Geoffrey Wainwright. ## Systematic Theology

DOGMATIC THEOLOGY 344 (444)

Credits: 3 (3) credits

DR PETER BOUTENEFF

Christology in Dialogue. The Church's teaching about Jesus Christ has always been worked out in dialogue and dispute between parties who, in hindsight, have been labeled "Orthodox" and "Heretics." Reviewing and discussing the dialogical nature of the formation of doctrine, this course will focus upon the Christological dialogue between Chalcedonian and non-Chalcedonian churches, from the fifth century to the present day. Prerequisite: Second-year standing in the Master of Divinity or Master of Arts program.

SPIRITUALITY 314

Credits: 3 credits

VERY REV. DR. DAVID MEZYNSKI

Desert Spirituality. The desert communities reflected deeply and richly on spirituality and how one might find guidance and salvation through ascetic struggle. In this course, the student will survey the literature of the desert and reflect critically upon the themes found within these texts and how these themes might be used in evangelizing and teaching in a variety of Christian communities. The students will meet in small groups and individually with the instructor to consider and identify how these works impact them personally and possible areas of personal growth. Prerequisite: None

SPIRITUALITY 316

Credits: 3 credits

DR PETER BOUTENEFF

Prayer and Sanctity. The Church's Tradition features rich resources on the meaning and practice of prayer, primarily through the ascetical writings. Additionally, through the lives of the saints and their liturgical hymnography, the Church teaches about what it means to live a holy life in a broken world. Rather than see prayer as a means to the "end" of sanctity, both are simultaneously process and goal, mutually nourishing each other. Through thoughtful exploration of the Church's teaching, we will seek to gain insight that will nourish our own lives as well as the people to whom we minister to the glory of God. Prerequisite: None.

SYSTEMATIC THEOLOGY 201

Credits: 3 credits

DR PETER BOUTENEFF

The Rise of Orthodox Systematic Theology in the 20th Century. This course seeks to explore and understand twentieth-century Orthodox theologians, observing how they received and articulated the tradition in and for their own day. By studying them in their own right and in terms of the contexts that shaped them, we will seek to understand the influences, the strengths, and the weaknesses not only of particular approaches but also of the entire project of "systematic theology" as it took shape in modern times. We will also explore several of the topics that typically constitute a systematic theology. Prerequisite: Second-year standing in the Master of Divinity or Master of Arts program.

SYSTEMATIC THEOLOGY 202

Credits: 3 credits

DR PETER BOUTENEFF

Living Tradition: Theology in Contemporary Society. The classical theological questions that engaged both the Church Fathers and twentieth-century Orthodox theologians require fresh answers in the face of developments in philosophy, science, and culture. On the basis of how twentieth-century thinkers appropriated the tradition for their context, we will address questions particular to our own era. How do we understand and affirm an Orthodox doctrine of creation in the face of debates about evolution and intelligent design? How are such debates brought to bear also on our understanding of the fall and of salvation? How do we speak of the human soul in view of developments in molecular biology, the study of consciousness, and artificial intelligence? Such questions will be examined with reference to developments in science, philosophy and literary theory, and popular culture. Prerequisite: Second-year standing in the Master of Divinity or Master of Arts program.
