

Archpriest Philip LeMasters is Professor of Religion and Director of the Honors Program at McMurry University, Abilene, TX, where he also serves as pastor of St Luke Antiochian Orthodox Church. Fr Philip's many publications address applied topics in Orthodox ethics such as peacemaking, political action, violence, sexuality, marriage, and bioethics. Fr Philip has taught as an adjunct Professor of Christian Ethics at St Vladimir's Orthodox Theological Seminary, where he is a longtime member of the Board of Trustees. His latest book Sex and Salvation is scheduled for publication by St Vladimir's Seminary (SVS) Press later this year. He received a Ph.D. in Christian Theology and Ethics from Duke University, and is a Senior Fellow in the Orthodoxy and Human Rights Project of the Orthodox Christian Studies Center of Fordham University.